

The Scottish Parliament Copyright Licence

You are encouraged to use and re-use the Information that is available under this licence freely and flexibly, with only a few conditions.

Using Information under this licence

Use of copyright and database right material expressly made available under this licence (the 'Information') indicates your acceptance of the terms and conditions below.

The Scottish Parliamentary Corporate Body (SPCB) grants you a worldwide, royalty-free, perpetual, non-exclusive licence to use the Information subject to the conditions below.

This licence does not affect your freedom under fair dealing or fair use or any other copyright or database right exceptions and limitations.

You are free to:

copy, publish, distribute and transmit the Information;

adapt the Information;

exploit the Information commercially and non-commercially, for example, by combining it with other Information, or by including it in your own product or application.

If you do any of the above, you must:

acknowledge the source of the Information by including the following attribution statement and, where possible, providing a link to this licence

(Contains information licenced under the Open Scottish Parliament Licence V.2)

These are important conditions of this licence and if you fail to comply with them the rights granted to you under this licence, or any similar licence granted by the Scottish Parliamentary Corporate Body, will end automatically.

Exemptions

This licence does not cover:

- personal data in the Information;
- Information that has not been accessed by way of publication or disclosure under information access legislation including the Freedom of Information (Scotland) Act 2002 by or with the consent of the Scottish Parliamentary Corporate Body;
- the Scottish Parliamentary Corporate Body's Corporate Identity;

- third party rights the Scottish Parliamentary Corporate Body is not authorised to license;
- other intellectual property rights, including patents, trademarks and design rights; and
- identity documents.

Non-endorsement

This licence does not grant you any right to use the Information in a way that suggests any official status or that the Scottish Parliamentary Corporate Body endorses you or your use of the information. In particular, specific terms and conditions relate to the re-use of downloadable files such as images and video footage which states that they are:

- not to be used in connection with party political purposes; and
- not to be used in connection with advertising endorsement.

No warranty

The Information is licensed 'as is' and the Scottish Parliamentary Corporate Body excludes all representations, warranties, obligations and liabilities in relation to the Information to the maximum extent permitted by law.

The Scottish Parliamentary Corporate Body is not liable for any errors or omissions in the Information and shall not be liable for any loss, injury or damage of any kind caused by its use and does not guarantee the continued supply of the Information.

Governing law

This licence is governed by the laws of the jurisdiction in which the Information Provider has its principal place of business, unless otherwise specified by the Information Provider.

Definitions

In this licence, the terms below have the following meanings:

- 'Information' means information protected by copyright or by database right (for example, literary and artistic works, content, data and source code) offered for use under the terms of this licence.
- 'Use' means doing any act which is restricted by copyright or database right, whether in the original medium or in any other medium, and includes without limitation distributing, copying, adapting, modifying as may be technically necessary to use it in a different mode or format.
- 'You', 'you' and 'your' means the natural or legal person, or body of persons corporate or incorporate, acquiring rights in the Information (whether the Information is obtained directly from the Licensor or otherwise) under this licence.

About the Open Government Licence

The Controller of Her Majesty's Stationery Office (HMSO) has developed the Open Government Licence as a tool to enable Information Providers in the public sector to license the use and re-use of their Information under a common open licence. The Controller invites public sector bodies owning their own copyright and database rights to permit the use of their Information under this licence.

The Controller of HMSO has authority to license Information subject to copyright and database right owned by the Crown. The extent of the Controller's offer to license this Information under the terms of this licence is set out in the UK Government Licensing Framework.

This Scottish Parliament Licence is aligned with OGLv3.0

The Controller of HMSO may, from time to time, issue new versions of the Open Government Licence. If you are already using Information under a previous version of the Open Government Licence, the terms of that licence will continue to apply.

Further context, best practice and guidance can be found in the UK Government Licensing Framework section on The National Archives website.
