PUBLIC BODIES ACT CONSENT MEMORANDUM

THE PUBLIC BODIES (ABOLITION OF THE NATIONAL CONSUMER COUNCIL AND TRANSFER OF THE OFFICE OF FAIR TRADING'S FUNCTIONS IN RELATION TO ESTATE AGENTS ETC) ORDER 2014

Draft Public Bodies Act Consent Motion

1. The draft motion, which will be lodged by the Minister for Energy, Enterprise and Tourism, is:

“That the Parliament consents to the making of The Public Bodies (Abolition of the National Consumer Council and Transfer of the Office of Fair Trading's Functions in relation to Estate Agents etc) Order 2014, a draft of which was laid before the United Kingdom Parliament on 5 December 2013 and which makes provision which would be within the legislative competence of the Parliament if it were contained within an Act of that Parliament.”

2. This Memorandum has been lodged by Fergus Ewing, Minister for Energy, Enterprise and Tourism, in accordance with Standing Orders under Chapter 9BA.

Background

Public Bodies Act 2011

3. The UK Public Bodies Act 2011 (“the 2011 Act”) gives UK Ministers the authority (via order making powers) to abolish, merge or transfer the functions of public bodies listed in its schedules, and some of those bodies operate in both the reserved and devolved areas. Section 9 of the 2011 Act acknowledges the scope for effects on devolved interests by requiring Orders that include provision falling within devolved competence to be consented to by Holyrood.

4. Standing Orders include the process for scrutinising PBACMs at Chapter 9BA.

National Consumer Council, Citizens Advice Scotland and Office of Fair Trading

5. As part of its consumer landscape reforms, the UK Government announced in October 2010 that it planned to abolish NCC (a cross border public authority known by the operating name of Consumer Focus and, latterly, Consumer Futures) and transfer its functions to the Citizens Advice service (Citizens Advice Scotland and Citizens Advice). It also announced that it planned to abolish OFT, passing some of its consumer functions to other bodies.

6. Citizens Advice Scotland (CAS) is the national umbrella organisation for Scottish Citizens Advice Bureaux. Its statutory name is the Scottish Association of Citizens Advice Bureaux. It is an independent charitable membership organisation and a cross border public authority under the Scotland Act 1998. The bulk of CAS funding comes from the UK Government, while individual bureaux are largely funded by local authorities. Citizens Advice is the equivalent body for England and Wales.
UK Government reform proposal

7. Consumer protection is reserved to the UK Government. Its consultation Empowering and Protecting Consumers (June 2011) proposed reform of the consumer landscape in order to reduce its perceived complexity. Plans included giving responsibility for consumer advice to CAS and Citizens Advice and abolishing OFT.

Implications for Scotland

8. The responsibility for delivery of statutory reserved functions relating to consumer advice, advocacy and education in Scotland will transfer from Consumer Focus Scotland (part of Consumer Focus) to CAS on April 2014, although CAS has already taken on general consumer functions (since April 2013). Functions include work in relation to regulated industries in the energy, post and (devolved) water sectors which will not transfer until April 2014. In addition to conferring functions on a cross border public authority, the Order makes consequential amendments to devolved legislation which make reference to the National Consumer Council and also to the Housing (Scotland) Act 2006. The changes are not anticipated to affect the practical delivery of consumer protection policies in Scotland.

The draft The Public Bodies (Abolition of the National Consumer Council and Transfer of the Office of Fair Trading’s Functions in relation to Estate Agents etc) Order 2014

9. The Department for Business, Innovation and Skills is promoting the NCC Order under sections 1(1) and (2), 5(1)(b), 6(1), (2) and (5) and 35(2) of the 2011 Act. The NCC Order will abolish the NCC and transfer functions to CAS and Citizens Advice. It also transfers functions of OFT in relation to the regulation of estate agents. The provisions in relation to conferring functions on CAS and amending devolved legislation require the consent of the Scottish Parliament as they would be within the legislative competence of the Scottish Parliament if contained within an Act of that Parliament.

Scottish Government position

10. The statutory functions being transferred to CAS are ones currently carried out in Scotland by Consumer Focus Scotland (now called Consumer Futures) so there are not anticipated to be any major changes to the functions, except in so far as they will be subject to future work plans of CAS. A consultation on this will be carried out by CAS in January 2014. The consequential changes to Scottish legislation will replace NCC by CAS (and OFT by Trading Standards) where appropriate and therefore will not change the policy intent behind the Scottish legislation.

Consultation

11. Section 10 of the 2011 Act requires the UK Minister proposing an Order to consult on the proposed changes. The UK Government consulted on its proposals for consumer landscape reform in Empowering and Protecting Consumers (June 2011). A number of stakeholders in Scotland expressed the view that it would be better to retain an independent consumer advocacy body, but this was not accepted by the UK Government. CAS supported the UK Government’s proposals to transfer consumer advocacy to the Citizens Advice service.
Financial / Resource Implications

12. There are no financial or resource implications.

Conclusion

13. The Scottish Government invites the Parliament to consent to the making of The Public Bodies (Abolition of the National Consumer Council and Transfer of the Office of Fair Trading’s Functions in relation to Estate Agents etc) Order 2014, a draft of which was laid before the UK Parliament on 5 December 2013.

7. Where an appeal has been started against a decision of the OFT in relation to any of the functions transferred by article 5(2) under regulation 44 of the 2007 Regulations, after the commencement of article 5(2) it is to be treated as an appeal under regulation 43 of the 2007 Regulations.

EXPLANATORY NOTE
(This note is not part of the Order)

This instrument abolishes the National Consumer Council and transfers relevant functions to the National Association of Citizens Advice Bureaux (“Citizens Advice”) and the Scottish Association of Citizens Advice Bureaux (“Citizens Advice Scotland”). Functions of the National Consumer Council relating to consumer matters in Northern Ireland for postal services, are transferred to the General Consumer Council for Northern Ireland (“GCCNI”).

The abolition and the transfer of functions is to take place on 1st April 2014.

The instrument also transfers certain functions which relate to a consumer advice scheme from the Office of Fair Trading (“OFT”) to Citizens Advice and Citizens Advice Scotland. This transfer also takes effect on 1st April 2014.

In addition the order transfers the functions of the OFT in relation to the regulation of estate agents. The OFT’s functions in the Estate Agents Act 1979 are transferred to a lead enforcement authority and the OFT’s functions as the supervisor of estate agents in the Money Laundering Regulations 2007 are transferred to the Commissioners of Her Majesty’s Revenue and Customs (“the Commissioners”). This transfer of functions is to take place on 31st March 2014.

Article 2 abolishes the National Consumer Council.

Article 3(1) introduces Schedule 1 to the Order. This has effect to transfer relevant functions of the National Consumer Council to Citizens Advice, Citizens Advice Scotland and GCCNI (known together as the “consumer advocacy bodies”). Schedule 1 also transfers relevant functions in relation to the energy sector to Citizens Advice and Citizens Advice Scotland, transfers functions which relate to water (as well as a function in the Warm Homes and Energy Conservation Act 2000, which only relates to England and Wales) to Citizens Advice and transfers functions relating to Scottish water to Citizens Advice Scotland and makes other amendments to Scottish legislation. In addition, Schedule 1 transfers functions relating to consumer matters in Northern Ireland relating to post to GCCNI.

Finally, Schedule 1 makes consequential, supplementary incidental and transitional provision relating to the abolition of the National Consumer Council and the transfer of its functions.

Article 3(2) explains that where a function is transferred to Citizens Advice and Citizens Advice Scotland under articles (3)(1)(a) and (b), those bodies may also exercise their functions jointly or they may exercise a function on behalf of the other, if they so agree.

Article 3(3) provides that any other functions conferred on Citizens Advice and Citizens Advice Scotland not conferred by this Order, will not be subject to the provisions of this Order.

Article 3(4) provides that a function transferred to the GCCNI may only be exercised in relation to consumer matters that relate to postal services in Northern Ireland.

The function to support a consumer advice scheme was transferred from the OFT to Citizens Advice and Citizens Advice Scotland by the Public Bodies (The Office of Fair Trading’s Transfer of Consumer Advice Scheme Function and Modification of Enforcement Functions) Order 2013 (S.I. 2013/783).
Article 4 and Schedule 1 transfer ancillary functions of the OFT which relate to a consumer advice scheme to Citizens Advice and Citizens Advice Scotland. Schedule 1 also makes consequential, supplementary and incidental provision relating to the transfer of those consumer advice scheme functions from the OFT.

Article 5 transfers the functions of the OFT in relation to the regulation of estate agents. Article 5(1) transfers the OFT’s functions in the Estate Agents Act 1979 to Powys County Council, the lead enforcement authority. Article 5(2) transfers the OFT’s functions as the supervisor of estate agents under the Money Laundering Regulations 2007 to the Commissioners. Schedules 2 and 3 make consequential, supplementary, incidental, transitional provision and savings.
