(1) Where it appears to the Scottish Ministers on a report under section 4 or by a person mentioned in subsection (2)—

(a) that a community justice authority is failing, or has failed, satisfactorily to exercise its functions under this Act; and

(a) states that the authority is not so failing (or as the case may be has not so failed) and gives reasons supporting that statement; or

(b) acknowledges that the authority is so failing (or has so failed) but gives reasons why an enforcement notice should not be issued to it.

5 If a response is given under subsection (4)(b), the authority must either describe in the response the measures it proposes to take to remedy the failure or explain why no such measures need be taken.

6 Where, following service of the preliminary notice and the expiry of the period specified in that notice, it still appears to the Scottish Ministers that the circumstances are as mentioned in paragraphs (a) and (b) of subsection (1), they may issue an enforcement direction to the authority.

7 An enforcement direction is one which requires the authority to take, within such time as is specified in the direction, such action as is so specified, being action for the purpose of remedying, or preventing the recurrence of, the failure.

8 An authority to which an enforcement direction is issued under this section must comply with it.

9 The Scottish Ministers may vary or revoke an enforcement direction.

10 The Scottish Ministers may, instead of or as well as issuing an enforcement direction to the authority, make such recommendations to the authority as they think fit.

11 When the Scottish Ministers issue, vary or revoke an enforcement direction they are to—

(ii) one relevant person provided that the person making the report considers such failure to be symptomatic of some general failure of the local authority in the exercise of their functions under that section; and they may issue a preliminary notice to the community justice authority.

(2) Subsections (3) to (11) of section 5 apply in relation to an apparent failure mentioned in subsection (1)(a) of this section as they apply in relation to an apparent failure mentioned in subsection (1)(a) of that section.

(3) For the purposes of that application references in those subsections of that section to “the authority” are to be construed as references to the community justice authority except that the references in paragraphs (a) and (b) of subsection (4) of that section are to be construed as references to the local authority.

(4) But, notwithstanding that exception, the word “it” in paragraph (b) of subsection (4) of that section is to be construed as a reference to the community justice authority.

(4) The Scottish Ministers may, under subsection (2), make different provision for different community justice authorities.

(5) A statutory instrument containing an order under subsection (2) is not made unless a draft of the instrument has been laid before, and approved by resolution of, the Parliament.

8 Transfer of property to community justice authority

(1) For the purpose of facilitating the discharge by a community justice authority of that authority’s functions, a local authority or the Scottish Ministers may transfer property to that authority.

(2) Where such transfer occurs, no right of pre-emption or other similar right operates or becomes exercisable.
