Submission from Robert Bartlett

I write to register my opposition to the Higher Education Governance (Scotland) Bill. Its effect will be to increase government control of universities. We have seen the results of this in other countries and other periods of history. It erodes freedom of thought and expression. The British universities are prized institutions with centuries of responsible self-government behind them. Nothing should be done to prejudice their uniquely valuable standing.

Robert Bartlett,