How would you characterise your views on the Bill in general?
In support

How would you characterise your views on the introduction of same sex marriage, so that same sex couples can marry each other?
In support

How would you characterise your views on putting belief celebrants on the same footing as religious celebrants?
In support

How would you characterise your views on the arrangements for authorising celebrants to solemnise opposite sex and same sex marriage (including the opt-in procedures)?
In support

How would you characterise your views on civil partnerships changing to marriages?
In support

How would you characterise your views on allowing civil marriage ceremonies to take place anywhere, other than religious premises, agreed between the couple and registrar?
In support

How would you characterise your views on allowing the religious and belief registration of civil partnerships?
In support

How would you characterise your views on allowing transgender persons to stay married when obtaining a full Gender Recognition Certificate, which provides legal recognition in the acquired gender?
In support

Would you like to comment on the wider issue of protections for those in society who may have concerns about same sex marriage?
I think that whilst people may have concerns, they should recognise that same sex couples are currently being treated like second-class citizens as their right to marry is being denied; a right which every citizen should be able to enjoy. Same sex marriages would make many same sex couples and their families and friends happy and I think it is selfish if people want to take this opportunity away from them. It would be hypocritical to criticise Russia's treatment of the LGBT community when Scotland is also currently treating same sex couples as if they are not full citizens. I hope that Scotland becomes more liberal and same sex marriage is legalised, and hopefully other countries will follow suit.

Would you like to comment on the wider issue of freedom of speech?

Would you like to comment on any other wider issues in relation to the Bill that are not mentioned above?

Are you responding as...

a private individual

Chelsea Cummings
8 August 2013