How would you characterise your views on the Bill in general?

In support

I think it is a prime example of a nation who is trying to embody the very sentiment behind the word 'equal'. I think we have a long way to go but this is a great step forward. I have lived in Scotland for nearly ten years and am bringing up my family here too. It is important than when we travel and when we look back that we have found a reason to be proud to live here. Make it happen.

How would you characterise your views on the introduction of same sex marriage, so that same sex couples can marry each other?

How would you characterise your views on putting belief celebrants on the same footing as religious celebrants?

How would you characterise your views on the arrangements for authorising celebrants to solemnise opposite sex and same sex marriage (including the opt-in procedures)?

How would you characterise your views on civil partnerships changing to marriages?

How would you characterise your views on allowing civil marriage ceremonies to take place anywhere, other than religious premises, agreed between the couple and registrar?

How would you characterise your views on allowing the religious and belief registration of civil partnerships?

In support

How would you characterise your views on allowing transgender persons to stay married when obtaining a full Gender Recognition Certificate, which provides legal recognition in the acquired gender?

In support
Would you like to comment on the wider issue of protections for those in society who may have concerns about same sex marriage?

Would you like to comment on the wider issue of freedom of speech?

Would you like to comment on any other wider issues in relation to the Bill that are not mentioned above?

Are you responding as...

a private individual

Jamie Hylands
14 August 2013