How would you characterise your views on the Bill in general?
In support

How would you characterise your views on the introduction of same sex marriage, so that same sex couples can marry each other?
In support

How would you characterise your views on putting belief celebrants on the same footing as religious celebrants?
In support

How would you characterise your views on the arrangements for authorising celebrants to solemnise opposite sex and same sex marriage (including the opt-in procedures)?
In support

How would you characterise your views on civil partnerships changing to marriages?
In support

How would you characterise your views on allowing civil marriage ceremonies to take place anywhere, other than religious premises, agreed between the couple and registrar?
In support

How would you characterise your views on allowing the religious and belief registration of civil partnerships?
In support

How would you characterise your views on allowing transgender persons to stay married when obtaining a full Gender Recognition Certificate, which provides legal recognition in the acquired gender?
In support

Would you like to comment on the wider issue of protections for those in society who may have concerns about same sex marriage?

Mark, 12:31 - "Love one another as you love yourselves. There [is] no commandment greater than [this]." If you don't want a gay marriage, don't get one. The only people this bill will affect is gay couples - it's been specifically constructed so that religious organisations which do not wish to recognise gay marriage, don't have to. If they don't have a problem, then how arrogant must one be to think that this affects oneself?

Would you like to comment on the wider issue of freedom of speech?

I believe free speech is an important part of our society, but also think it's important to recognise that many rights clash with others, and that everyone has to accept some limitation somewhere for the good of themselves and society.

Would you like to comment on any other wider issues in relation to the Bill that are not mentioned above?

Are you responding as...

a private individual

Robin Quinn
21 August 2013