Inverclyde Council’s response would be that the estimate of £20k - £30k to produce an initial plan for the Council seems reasonable. There are likely to be additional costs arising from the initial plan however these can’t be quantified at this point.