4. Alcohol Licensing

You may respond to all questions or only those you have a specific interest in. (Text boxes have no word limit, they will increase in size accordingly).

28. In what ways will the Bill’s provisions on alcohol licensing allow for reductions in crime and the preservation of public order?

29. Are there any other measures which should be taken to assist in the reduction of crime and the preservation of public order?

30. In what ways will the provisions in the Bill enhance the licensing objectives set out in the Licensing (Scotland) Act 2005?
31. In what ways will the re-introduction of the “fit and proper person” test assist with the implementation of the licensing objectives set out in the 2005 act?

32. Have there been any unintended consequences arising from the 2005 Act, for example, in rural areas or the economic regeneration of areas?

The number of licensed premises in Scotland has reduced and while this may, in part, be linked to economic conditions, the increasing complexity of the licensing system may also be a factor. Some FSB members have told us that the level of complexity and cost (e.g. the cost of architectural plans/drawings of properties in addition to the application fee) means it is not worth applying for a licence for premises in which alcohol is incidental to the business. This might include, for example, a small gift shop selling miniatures, or a B&B wishing to serve a dram to guests.

33. Which, if any, types of spent relevant offences should be required to be disclosed and what do you think the benefits of disclosure will be?

34. Do you have any other comments to make on the alcohol licensing aspects of the Bill?
