As a football supporter, I support the retention of the current legislation.
If as some say it should be improved, then improve it, but do Not repeal.
There is no place for sectarian singing in this day and age.
Repealing the Act would give entirely the wrong message, particularly as we have just seen the Orange Order in triumphant mode walking the streets of Cities and towns this month celebrating their anti-Catholic message, an abomination in this the 21st Century.

Keep the Act.

Anne Meikle
3 July 2017