PE1911/S – Review of Human Tissue (Scotland) Act 2006 as it relates to post-mortems

I'd like to support the petition to change the law regarding post mortems and tissue samples. I believe these tissues should be returned to the next of kin and not kept for research without the family's permission or consent. I also think Scotland should follow England in using the latest up to date body scanners which are very accurate and stops the need for carving up the torso, causing undue stress and trauma to family members who are already grieving for a loved one.
