

Lived Experience & Third Sector Representation in Integration Joint Boards Sector

Background

Integration Joint Boards (IJBs) were established under the Public Bodies (Joint Working) (Scotland) Act 2014 to integrate health and social care services across Scotland. Their membership currently includes unpaid carer, service user and third sector representatives (collectively referred to as “lived experience” members) who are responsible for reflecting the breadth and diversity of views and situations of the groups that they represent. These members represent the lived reality of accessing and providing health and social care services in their communities and provide valuable insight into the challenges and opportunities the IJB should consider in its planning¹.

Lived Experience & Third Sector Integration Joint Boards Membership

The Public Bodies (Joint Working) (Membership and Procedures of Integration Joint Boards) (Scotland) Order 2014 establishes a minimum required membership for IJBs while allowing local flexibility to include additional nominees as each Board considers appropriate. In addition to Health Board and Local Authority representatives, the non-voting membership of an must also include:

- The Chief Social Work Officer of the constituent Local Authority
- A General Practitioner representative, appointed by the Health Board
- A Secondary Medical Care Practitioner representative, employed by the Health Board
- A Nurse representative, employed by the Health Board
- A staff-side representative
- A third sector representative
- A carer representative
