

NON-SURGICAL PROCEDURES AND FUNCTIONS OF MEDICAL REVIEWERS (SCOTLAND) BILL

EXPLANATORY NOTES

INTRODUCTION

1. As required under Rule 9.3.2A of the Parliament's Standing Orders, these Explanatory Notes are published to accompany the Non-surgical Procedures and Functions of Medical Reviewers (Scotland) Bill, introduced in the Scottish Parliament on 8 October 2025.
2. The following other accompanying documents are published separately:
  - a Financial Memorandum (SP Bill 77–FM);
  - a Policy Memorandum (SP Bill 77–PM);
  - a Delegated Powers Memorandum (SP Bill 77–DPM);
  - statements on legislative competence made by the Presiding Officer and the Scottish Government (SP Bill 77–LC).
3. These Explanatory Notes have been prepared by the Scottish Government in order to assist the reader of the Bill and to help inform debate on it. They do not form part of the Bill and have not been endorsed by the Parliament.
4. The Notes should be read in conjunction with the Bill. They are not, and are not meant to be, a comprehensive description of the Bill. So where a section or schedule, or a part of a section or schedule, does not seem to require any explanation or comment, none is given.

THE BILL

Overview

5. The Bill regulates the provision of non-surgical procedures. A non-surgical procedure is a procedure that pierces or penetrates an individual's skin and which falls within a description in schedule 1 of the Bill. Generally speaking, these procedures are sought for cosmetic or wellbeing reasons (such as increasing physical or mental strength or vitality) by the person receiving the procedure.
6. Part 1 of the Bill—
  - creates a criminal offence of providing a non-surgical procedure to a person who is under 18 (see section 2),

- creates a criminal offence of providing a non-surgical procedure outwith certain premises (see section 3),
  - creates a power to make further provision about the provision of non-surgical procedures (see section 5),
  - confers additional powers on Healthcare Improvement Scotland (“HIS”) to enforce the offences under the Bill (see sections 6 to 11), and
  - consequentially amends the National Health Service (Scotland) Act 1978 (the “1978 Act”) (see section 14 and schedule 2).
7. In addition, Part 2 of the Bill amends the Certification of Death (Scotland) Act 2011—
- to make certain death certificates eligible for review by a medical reviewer (see section 16),
  - to remove the requirement for a medical reviewer to authorise the cremation of a person’s body where that person has died within the United Kingdom but outside Scotland (see section 17).

Part 1: Non-surgical Procedures

Section 1: Meaning of “non-surgical procedure”

8. This section defines a “non-surgical procedure” for the purposes of the Bill.
9. A non-surgical procedure is a procedure that:
- pierces or penetrates an individual’s skin, including by means of a needle, chemical, medicine, heat, cold, light, laser, sound or electricity, and
  - is specified in schedule 1 of the Bill.
10. But a non-surgical procedure does not include a procedure:
- that is provided by a person acting for or on behalf of the NHS in Scotland,
  - that is provided for the purpose of, or in connection with, preventing, diagnosing or treating an illness of the person receiving the procedure and the procedure is provided by: an independent health care service (within the meaning of section 10F of 1978 Act) that is registered with HIS under section 10P of the 1978 Act; a person who is regulated by one of the bodies listed in subsection (3); or a person who is acting in accordance with the directions of such a person, or
  - that is an activity for which a licence is required under Part 1 of that Civic Government (Scotland) Act 1982 (including the Civic Government (Scotland) Act 1982 (Licensing of Skin Piercing and Tattooing) Order 2006 (S.S.I. 2006/43)).
11. Note that for the purpose of section 1(1)(b)(ii) of the Bill, the inclusive definition of “illness” aligns with the definition of “illness” in section 108 of the 1978 Act.

12. It is an offence under section 10Z9(1) of the 1978 Act for a person to carry on or manage an independent healthcare service (see the meaning of “provide” in this context under section 10Z18 of the 1978 Act) while the service is not registered with HIS under section 10P of the 1978 Act.

13. The persons who are regulated by a body listed in subsection (3) are:

- anaesthesia associate,
- art therapist,
- biomedical scientist,
- chiropodist or podiatrist,
- chiropractor,
- clinical dental technician,
- clinical scientist,
- dental hygienist,
- dental nurse,
- dental technician,
- dental therapist,
- dentist,
- dietitian,
- dispensing optician
- doctor (medical practitioner),
- hearing aid dispenser,
- midwife,
- nurse (registered nurse),
- occupational therapist,
- operating department practitioner,
- optometrist,
- orthodontic therapist,
- orthoptist,
- osteopath,
- paramedic,
- pharmacist,
- pharmacy technician,
- physician associate,
- physiotherapist,
- practitioner psychologist,
- prosthetist or orthotist,
- radiographer,
- speech and language therapist,
- student dispensing optician,
- student optometrist.

14. Subsection (4) provides that the Scottish Ministers may by regulations amend the list of health regulators in subsection (3). Section 19(3) of the Bill provides that this power is subject to the negative procedure (see section 28 of the Interpretation and Legislative Reform (Scotland) Act 2010 for the meaning of “the negative procedure”).

15. Subsection (5) provides that the Scottish Ministers may by regulations amend the list of non-surgical procedures specified in schedule 1. Section 19(4) of the Bill provides that this power is subject to the affirmative procedure (see section 29 of the Interpretation and Legislative Reform (Scotland) Act 2010 for the meaning of “the affirmative procedure”).

Non-surgical procedures specified in schedule 1

16. Subsection (1)(a)(ii) introduces schedule 1 of the Bill which specifies descriptions of procedures that fall within the definition of a non-surgical procedure for the purpose of the Bill.

17. Ablative laser treatment is specified in paragraph 1. In addition to procedures which remove one or more layers of skin, lights and lasers can be used in a variety of other procedures. During this parliamentary session, the Scottish Government intends to lay a draft Scottish statutory instrument containing an order to be made under section 44(1)(b) of the Civic Government (Scotland) Act 1982 designating other procedures involving lasers which do not have an ablative effect (that is, procedures which do not involve the removal of layers of skin) as an activity for which a licence is required under Part 1 of the 1982 Act.

18. Chemical peels are specified in paragraph 3. Chemical peels may remove skin at a variety of depths depending on the strength and composition of substance used in connection with the peel and/or the duration of the application of the substance. During this parliamentary session, the Scottish Government intends to lay a draft Scottish statutory instrument containing an order to be made under section 44(1)(b) of the Civic Government (Scotland) Act 1982 designating chemical peels which penetrate the skin but not beyond the epidermis (the skin's outer layer) as an activity for which a licence is required under Part 1 of the 1982 Act.

19. Dermal microcoring is specified in paragraph 4. The small cores of skin tissue that are removed by this procedure are typically less than half a millimetre in diameter.

20. Injectable procedures are specified in paragraph 5. These procedures include:

- (a) the administration of dermal fillers in smaller quantities such as to change the shape of the face or lips, or to reduce the appearance of wrinkles,
- (b) the administration of dermal fillers in larger quantities to, for example, augment the shape of the breast or buttocks, such as a non-surgical Brazilian butt lift (or BBL),
- (c) botulinum toxin (Botox) injections.

21. Microneedling is specified in paragraph 7. This procedure may be carried out at a range of depths, including at a depth of 1.5 millimetres or more to meet the definition of a non-surgical procedure for the purposes of the Bill. During this parliamentary session, the Scottish Government intends to lay a draft Scottish statutory instrument containing an order to be made under section 44(1)(b) of the Civic Government (Scotland) Act 1982 designating microneedling that is carried out at a depth of less than 1.5 millimetres as an activity for which a licence is required under Part 1 of the 1982 Act.

22. Thread lift is specified as being a non-surgical procedure in paragraph 8. It is also referred to as a thread and cog lift, particularly where the thread used is textured.

Section 2: Offence of providing a non-surgical procedure to person under 18

23. This section creates an offence of providing a non-surgical procedure to a client who is under the age of 18. In terms of providing a non-surgical procedure under this section, it is considered that this could apply to not only to the person administering a non-surgical procedure but also to a person (whether an individual or a legal person) providing the procedure in the broader sense of supplying the procedure. Depending on the circumstances, this could include a person who: makes available the premises where the offence is committed, purchases and supplies the materials or substances required in connection with the non-surgical procedure, or who arranges the recruitment (or training) of staff in connection with the provision of non-surgical procedures.

24. Subsection (2) sets out that it is a defence to show that the accused had taken reasonable steps to establish the client's age and reasonably believed that the client was aged 18 or over. This may apply, for example, where a client has an initial consultation with Person A, who was responsible for checking the client's age, and Person B undertook the non-surgical procedure on the client who was under 18. To be able to rely on the defence, Person B would need to show that they had taken reasonable steps to establish the client's age, such as checking the initial consultation form recorded that the client's identification documents were checked by Person A during the initial consultation.

25. Subsection (3) gives an example of when an accused is to be regarded as having taken reasonable steps. That example is when the accused was shown proof of identification listed in subsection (4). Acceptable proof of identification includes a passport, a UK driving licence or a national identity card issued by a Member State of the European Union (see definition of "member State" in this context in schedule 1 of the Interpretation and Legislative Reform (Scotland) Act 2010), Norway, Iceland, Liechtenstein or Switzerland.

26. Under subsection (6), the Scottish Ministers may prescribe other documents as acceptable identification that is listed in subsection (4). Section 19(3) of the Bill provides that this power is subject to the negative procedure.

27. The documents, and the power to amend the list of documents, are the same as in the regulation of—

- the sale of tobacco products (the Sale of Tobacco (Prescribed Documents) (Scotland) Regulations 2013 (S.S.I. 2013/202)),
- the sale of nicotine vapour products (the Sale of Nicotine Vapour Products (Prescribed Documents) (Scotland) Regulations 2017 (S.S.I. 2017/13)),
- the use and sale of sunbeds (the Public Health etc. (Scotland) Act 2008 (Sunbed) Regulations 2009 (S.S.I. 2009/388)),
- the sale of alcohol (the Sale of Alcohol to Children and Young Persons (Scotland) Regulations 2007 (S.S.I. 2007/93)).

28. Subsection (5) provides that the accused is subject to no more than an evidential burden of proof to bring forward enough evidence to raise an issue with respect to the defence. The legal burden of disproving the defence and proving that the offence has been committed stays with the prosecution.

Section 3: Offence of providing a non-surgical procedure outwith permitted premises

29. This section creates an offence of providing a non-surgical procedure to another person outwith permitted premises, as defined in section 4 of the Bill. In terms of providing a non-surgical procedure under this section, it is considered that this could apply to not only the person administering a non-surgical procedure but also to a person (whether an individual or a legal person) providing the procedure in the broader sense of supplying the procedure. Depending on the circumstances, this could include a person who: makes available the premises where the offence is committed, purchases and supplies the materials or substances required in connection with the non-surgical procedure, or who arranges the recruitment (or training) of staff in connection with the provision of non-surgical procedures.

30. Subsection (2) provides that it is a defence to show that the accused reasonably believed that the non-surgical procedure in question was being provided in permitted premises. This may apply, for example, where the accused is an employee who is working at what the employee believed to be permitted premises by virtue of being an independent hospital registered with HIS (see section 4(1)(a) of the Bill, discussed below) but in fact those premises were not correctly registered with HIS.

31. Subsection (3) provides that the accused is subject to no more than an evidential burden of proof to bring forward enough evidence to raise an issue with respect to the defence. The legal burden of disproving the defence and proving that the offence has been committed stays with the prosecution.

Section 4: Meaning of “permitted premises”

32. This section sets out the meaning of “permitted premises” in which a non-surgical procedure may be provided.

Independent healthcare services

33. Under section 4(1)(a) and (b), certain independent hospitals and independent clinics (within the relevant meanings given by section 10F(2) of the 1978 Act) are defined as “permitted premises”.

34. Independent hospitals and independent clinics both fall within the definition of an “independent health care service” in section 10F(1) of the 1978 Act. That means that they are regulated by HIS. HIS regulates independent healthcare by inspecting services to ensure that they comply with standards and regulations, such as the requirements set out in the Healthcare Improvement Scotland (Requirements as to Independent Health Care Services) Regulations 2011 (S.S.I. 2011/182) relating to fitness of premises, staffing and keeping records of patient care.

35. By virtue of subsection (1)(a) and (b)(i), any provider of non-surgical procedures that is an independent hospital or an independent clinic must register with HIS to avoid committing an offence under section 3 of the Bill. If a provider does not register with HIS, an offence may be committed under section 3 of the Bill (providing a non-surgical procedure outwith “permitted premises”) and, separately, under section 10Z9 of the 1978 Act (offences in relation to registration).

36. Only independent clinics whose services are provided or managed by certain persons who are listed in subsection (3) fall within the definition of “permitted premises” (see subsection (1)(b)(ii)).

37. Those persons listed in subsection (3) are—

- a registered medical practitioner, as defined in schedule 1 of the Interpretation and Legislative Reform (Scotland) Act 2010 as meaning a fully registered person within the meaning of the Medical Act 1983 who holds a licence to practise under that Act,
- a person registered in the dentists register under the Dentists Act 1984,
- a nurse independent prescriber i.e. a nurse who is registered in the register under article 5 of the Nursing and Midwifery Order 2001 (S.I. 2002/253) (see the definition of “registered” in schedule 1 of the Interpretation and Legislative Reform (Scotland) Act 2010) by virtue of qualifications in nursing, and who is noted in that register as being qualified to order drugs, medicines and appliances as a nurse independent prescriber,
- a midwife independent prescriber, i.e. a midwife who is registered in the register under article 5 of the Nursing and Midwifery Order 2001 (see the definition of “registered” in schedule 1 of the Interpretation and Legislative Reform (Scotland) Act 2010) by virtue of qualifications in midwifery, and who is noted in that register as being qualified to order drugs, medicines and appliances as a nurse independent prescriber,
- a pharmacist independent prescriber as defined in section 4(5) of the Bill.

38. The following are not “permitted premises” for the purposes of the Bill by virtue of being listed in subsection (2A) of section 10F of the 1978 Act (i.e. they are excluded from being an independent clinic)—

- a clinic comprised in a post-16 education body,
- a clinic comprised in a school,
- a clinic provided by the Common Services Agency, a Health Board or a Special Health Board,
- a clinic or undertaking that is provided by an employer and services are provided only to the employees of that employer,
- a clinic that provides pharmaceutical services in accordance with arrangements made pursuant to section 27 of the 1978 Act,
- a nurse agency registered with Social Care and Social Work Improvement Scotland by virtue of section 59 of the Public Services Reform (Scotland) Act 2010,
- a clinic or undertaking that only provides first aid or therapy effected through speech (or both).

Other settings

39. Subsections (1)(c) and (d) and (2) allow non-surgical procedures to be provided in registered pharmacies and from GP practice premises and dental practice premises which also provide NHS services (excluding care homes and dwellings).

40. In accordance with section 10F(2A) of the 1978 Act, these providers do not fall within the definition of “independent clinic” and therefore do not need to register with HIS. This is because these settings are already regulated, or the health professionals working there are subject to existing professional regulation.

Power to modify the meaning of “permitted premises”

41. Subsection (4) contains a power to modify section 4 of the Bill so as to modify the meaning of “permitted premises”. Section 19(4) of the Bill provides that this power is subject to the affirmative procedure.

Section 5: Power to make further provision about the provision of non-surgical procedures

42. This section gives the Scottish Ministers the power, in regulations, to impose further restrictions and requirements in relation to the provision of non-surgical procedures. Section 19(4) of the Bill provides that this power is subject to the affirmative procedure.

43. The list in subsection (3) sets out examples of what may be done under the regulations.

44. Paragraph (a) allows for the imposition of different restrictions and requirements according to different categories of non-surgical procedure as specified in the regulations. This means that appropriate requirements can be applied in relation to different procedures according to the level of risk associated with them. For example, this power could be used to impose requirements relating to the conditions (e.g. relating to hygiene) under which procedures may be being carried out. Alternatively, the power could be used to restrict the provision of certain procedures to particular groups if it emerged that a new procedure could put the health of a particular group of people at risk (e.g. pregnant women or people with a particular health condition etc).

45. Paragraphs (b) and (c) permit the specification of who may provide, or supervise the provision of non-surgical procedures, and the training or qualifications to be obtained by those persons. Any exercise of this power to provide that only certain persons may provide, or supervise the provision of, non-surgical procedures will take account of the existing legislation about who may administer a prescription only medicine under the Medicines Act 1968 and the Human Medicines Regulations 2012 (S.I. 2012/1916) (see regulation 214(2) of the 2012 Regulations) which is a reserved matter under Section J4 of Part 2 of schedule 5 of the Scotland Act 1998 (medicines, medical supplies and poisons).

46. Paragraph (d) allows for the conferral of functions in relation to the enforcement of any restrictions and requirements relating to the provision of non-surgical procedures that are imposed by the regulations.

47. Subsection (2) provides that these regulations may modify any enactment (including the Bill). The regulations may also create an offence in connection with a restriction or requirement imposed by the regulations. For example, the regulations could provide that a person commits an offence if the person provides a non-surgical procedure without having obtained certain qualifications. The penalty for any offence created under the regulations is limited by subsection (4), which provides for a maximum penalty on summary conviction of a fine not exceeding level 5 on the standard scale. In addition, if the power is used to create new offences, it may be desirable to amend the Bill itself so that the regulation of the provision of non-surgical procedures is set out in one place rather than in separate regulations.

Sections 6 to 11: Enforcement powers

Section 6: Meaning of “authorised person”

48. Section 6(1) of the Bill defines an “authorised person” as being a person authorised by HIS to exercise functions conferred on an authorised person under Part 1 of the Bill.

49. Section 6(2) of the Bill requires an authorised person to provide proof of authorisation when requested to do so. This duty is similar to that in regulation 8 of the Healthcare Improvement Scotland (Inspections) Regulations 2011 (S.S.I. 2011/184).

Section 7: Powers of entry, search and seizure

50. This section sets out the circumstances in which an authorised person may enter and search premises for the purpose of ascertaining whether or not an offence under section 2 or 3 of the Bill has been or is being committed.

51. Firstly, the authorised person must have reasonable grounds to believe that either—

- an offence under section 2 or 3 of the Bill has been or is being committed at the premises, or
- the premises have been or are being used in connection with an offence under section 2 or 3 of the Bill.

52. An example of premises that are used in connection with an offence are premises that are a lock-up or a store that contains evidence such as paperwork, electronic devices, medicines or equipment which may provide information or evidence relating to an offence under section 2 or 3 of the Bill.

53. Secondly, the authorised person must have authority due to permission having been given by the occupier or a warrant having been granted or, where the premises are not used as a dwelling, it appears to the authorised person that any delay would frustrate the purpose of exercising the powers.

54. Subsection (5) allows an authorised person to seize any thing found on the premises but only if the authorised person has reasonable cause to believe that it may provide evidence of the commission of an offence under section 2 or 3 of the Bill.

55. Subsection (6) allows an authorised person to take onto or into any premises any other person or any equipment as may be necessary for the purposes of assisting the authorised person. This could, for example, be a locksmith in order to gain access.

56. Subsection (7) requires the occupier of the premises to comply with any reasonable direction of the authorised person (including the provision of any information or assistance that is reasonably required by the authorised person). And section 11 creates an offence in connection with any failure to comply with such a direction or request for information.

57. Subsection (8) provides that an authorised person's powers under section 9 do not apply in relation to any premises that are used (or which HIS believes are being used) for the purpose of providing an independent health care service (as defined in section 10F(1) of the 1978 Act). This avoids duplication and overlap with HIS's existing powers of enforcement under Part 1 of the 1978 Act – see, in particular, section 10K(3) of that Act. Subsection (8) does not affect the powers of the police who retain their usual powers to enforce the offences in the Bill.

Section 8: Restrictions on powers of entry, search and seizure

58. This section sets out restrictions on an authorised person's powers of entry, search and seizure.

59. Subsection (1) requires an authorised person to exercise the power of entry and search under section 7(1) at a reasonable time unless doing so would frustrate the purpose of exercising the power.

60. Under subsection (2), an authorised person must leave premises as effectively secured as the authorised person found them if the premises are unoccupied or the occupier of the premises is temporarily absent.

61. Subsections (3) and (4) provide that any thing seized by an authorised person, other than a perishable item that no longer has commercial value, must be returned when retention is no longer justified for the purpose of—

- enabling the item to be used in proceedings for an offence under section 2 or 3 of the Bill (as evidence), or
- enabling it to be forfeited in accordance with Part 2 of the Proceeds of Crime (Scotland) Act 1995, which makes provision for property which has been used in crime to be forfeited.

Section 9: Conditions for issue of warrant

62. This section provides a means for an authorised person to obtain a warrant from a sheriff or justice of the peace to enter and search premises for the purpose of ascertaining whether or not an offence under section 2 or 3 has been or is being committed.

63. Before granting a warrant to enter and search premises under this section, the sheriff or justice of the peace must be satisfied that—

- there are reasonable grounds for believing that either an offence under section 2 or 3 of the Bill has been or is being committed at the premises, or that the premises have been or are being used in connection with an offence under section 2 or 3 of the Bill, and
- either—
  - the authorised person has been refused entry to the premises (or a refusal may be reasonably expected), or notice of the intention to seek a warrant has been given to the occupier of the premises (or the giving of notice would frustrate the purpose for which the warrant is sought), or

- the premises are unoccupied, or the occupier of the premises is temporarily absent.

Section 10: Expiry of warrant

64. This section provides that a warrant that is granted under section 9 expires when it is no longer required for the purpose for which it is granted. That is, the warrant to enter and search the premises is no longer required for the purpose of ascertaining whether an offence under section 2 or 3 of the Bill has been (or is being committed) at the premises, or whether the premises have been (or are being used) in connection with an offence under section 2 or 3 of the Bill.

Section 11: Offence of obstructing an authorised person

65. This section makes it an offence to intentionally prevent or obstruct an authorised person from doing anything which the authorised person is authorised or entitled to do by virtue of the Bill, or without reasonable cause to fail to comply with a direction given, or a requirement made, under section 7(7) of the Bill.

Sections 12 and 13: Enforcement of offences

Section 12: Penalties

66. This section sets out the penalties for the offences in the Bill.

67. It provides that a person convicted of an offence under section 2, 3 or 11 is liable on summary conviction to a fine not exceeding level 5 on the standard scale (currently £5,000). This scale is set out in section 225 of the Criminal Procedure (Scotland) Act 1995.

Section 13: Individual culpability where offending by an organisation

68. This section provides that where an offence is committed under the Bill (section 2, 3 or 11) by a “relevant organisation” (as defined in subsection (3)), and committed either with the consent or the connivance of a “responsible individual” (as defined in subsection (3)), or because of neglect by such an individual, that individual, as well as the organisation, commits the offence in question.

Section 14: Minor and consequential modifications of the 1978 Act

69. Section 14 introduces schedule 2 of the Bill, which makes minor and consequential modifications of the 1978 Act in relation to the provision of non-surgical procedures.

70. At present, section 10A of the 1978 Act sets out that that HIS—

- is to exercise the functions conferred on it by virtue of the 1978 Act and any other enactment (including the Forensic Medical Services (Victims of Sexual Offences) (Scotland) Act 2021), and

- has the general duty of furthering improvement in the quality of health care and of services provided under that Act.

71. Paragraph 2 of schedule 2 of the Bill amends section 10A of the 1978 Act to make clear that HIS has functions under the Bill and to expand HIS's general duty to furthering the improvement of the provision of non-surgical procedures.

72. Paragraph 3 of schedule 2 of the Bill amends section 10S of the 1978 Act so that requirements of regulations made under section 5 of the Bill are "relevant requirements" for the purpose of section 10S(1) of the 1978 Act. That section allows HIS, after the expiry of the period specified in an improvement notice, to propose to cancel the registration of the independent health care service in question on the ground that the service is being, or has at any time been, carried on other than in accordance with the relevant requirements.

Part 2: Certification of death and authorisation of cremation

Section 16: Certification of death

73. This section amends sections 4 (application for review of certificate by interested person) and 8 (review of medical certificates of cause of death) of the Certification of Death (Scotland) Act 2011 (the "2011 Act").

74. Section 4(1) of the 2011 Act allows an interested person to apply to a medical reviewer for a review of an eligible medical certificate of cause of death. Under section 8(1)(b) of the 2011 Act, a medical reviewer must review any certificate in respect of which an application has been made under section 4(1) of the 2011 Act. Section 4(6) of the 2011 Act defines "eligible medical certificate of cause of death" to exclude certain certificates.

Certificate that has been referred under section 24A of the 1965 Act

75. Section 4(6)(b) of the 2011 Act excludes from the definition of "eligible medical certificate of cause of death" a certificate that has been referred under section 24A of the Registration of Births, Deaths and Marriages (Scotland) Act 1965 (the "1965 Act"). Section 24A of the 1965 Act—

- requires the Registrar General to refer randomly selected certificates (subsection (1)),
- requires the Registrar General to refer certificates requested by medical reviewers (subsection (2)), and
- allows a district registrar for a registration district to refer a certificate where the district registrar considers it appropriate to do so (subsection (3)).

76. Section 16(2)(c) of the Bill removes paragraph (b) of section 4(6) of the 2011 Act. The effect is that certificates that have been subjected to a review following referral under section 24A of the 1965 Act count as an eligible medical certificate of cause of death. Therefore, the certificate can subsequently be subject to review on an application by an interested person.

Certificate that has been, or is being, reviewed under section 8(1) of the 2011 Act

77. Section 4(6)(c) of the 2011 Act excludes from the definition of “eligible medical certificate of cause of death” a certificate that has already been, or is being, reviewed under section 8(1) of the 2011 Act following an application made by an interested person under section 4(1) of the 2011 Act.

78. Section 16(2)(c) of the Bill removes paragraph (c) of section 4(6) of the 2011 Act so that more than one review can be carried out under section 4 of the 2011 Act, for example where new evidence has come to light.

Medical reviewers’ power to reject application for review

79. Section 4(3) of the 2011 Act allows a medical reviewer to reject an application for a review of an eligible medical certificate of cause of death under section 4(1) of the 2011 Act where the medical reviewer considers the application to be vexatious.

80. Section 16(2)(a) and (3) of the Bill expand a medical reviewer’s discretion to reject an application so that the medical reviewer may reject an application if the medical reviewer—

- considers the application to be identical to, or substantially the same as, an application relating to a certificate that has been or is being reviewed under section 8(1)(b) of the 2011 Act, or
- considers it otherwise appropriate to do so.

81. Section 16(2)(b) of the Bill inserts new subsection (3A) into section 4 of the 2011 Act. This new subsection requires a medical reviewer who rejects an application to give the applicant reasons for the rejection.

Section 17: Authorisation of cremation

82. This section amends section 18 of the 2011 Act (medical reviewers to authorise cremation).

83. Section 18 of the 2011 Act applies where a person (“A”) dies outwith Scotland and it is intended that A is to be cremated in Scotland. In those circumstances, a medical reviewer must – on an application by a person who wishes to arrange the cremation of A – determine whether it is safe for A’s body to be cremated.

84. Section 17 of the Bill amends section 18 of the 2011 Act so that section 18 applies where A dies outwith the United Kingdom and it is intended that A be cremated in Scotland.

Part 3: General provisions

Section 18: Ancillary provision

85. This section empowers the Scottish Ministers, by regulations, to make various types of ancillary provision (incidental, supplementary, consequential, transitional, transitory or saving provision) for the purposes of, in connection with, or to give full effect to the Bill or any provision made under it.

86. Regulations under section 18 may modify any enactment (including the Bill itself once enacted). The word “enactment” is defined in schedule 1 of the Interpretation and Legislative Reform (Scotland) Act 2010 and includes Acts of the Scottish or UK Parliaments as well as secondary legislation.

87. If regulations under section 18 textually amend an Act then they are subject to the affirmative procedure, but otherwise they are subject to the negative procedure (see sections 28 and 29 of the Interpretation and Legislative Reform (Scotland) Act 2010).

Section 19: Regulation-making powers

88. This section makes further provision about the regulation-making powers given to the Scottish Ministers under this Bill. In particular—

- it allows regulations to make different provision for different purposes and different provision for different areas,
- it sets out the parliamentary procedure to which each regulation-making power is subject (i.e. the negative or the affirmative procedure— see sections 28 and 29 of the Interpretation and Legislative Reform (Scotland) Act 2010).

89. Further information can be found in the Delegated Powers Memorandum for the Bill.

Section 20: Commencement

90. This section sets out when the provisions of the Bill, once enacted, will come into force (i.e. take effect).

91. The final sections, including the commencement section, will come into force automatically on the day after the Bill receives Royal Assent. The other provisions will be commenced in accordance with regulations made by the Scottish Ministers under this section.

92. Regulations under this section will, unless exercised in conjunction with powers under other sections, be laid before the Scottish Parliament but will not be subject to any parliamentary procedure (see section 30 of the Interpretation and Legislative Reform (Scotland) Act 2010).

Section 21: Short title

93. This section provides for the resulting Act (if the Bill is passed and given Royal Assent) to be known as the Non-surgical Procedures and Functions of Medical Reviewers (Scotland) Act 2026.

NOTE ON INTERPRETATION

94. The text of the Bill is to be interpreted in accordance with the Interpretation and Legislative Reform (Scotland) Act 2010. Among other things, this provides default definitions for certain expressions (such as “person” and “writing”). It also sets out default rules for common situations (such as when something is to be treated as arriving when it is sent by post).

CROWN APPLICATION

95. Section 20 of the Interpretation and Legislative Reform (Scotland) Act 2010 provides that the Crown will be bound by an Act of the Scottish Parliament or Scottish statutory instrument unless the provision expressly exempts it. This Bill applies to the Crown in the same way as it applies to everyone else.
