A community conversation

Monday 24 February 2025

West Dunbartonshire Youth Council
Event in Clydebank

Introduction

As part of our activities to mark the Parliament's 25th anniversary, we visited the West of Scotland region to meet with local people to chat about what the Parliament means to them. We were keen to get a good understanding of what their expectations are for the future and how we can better engage with local people. That's what the Parliament is here for - to improve the lives of people in Scotland. It's important that we hear from people directly.

West Dunbartonshire Youth Council hosted a community event at Clydebank Town Hall where we had good discussions about issues like poverty, activities and safe places for young people to go and take part in. We had really good, lively conversations.

The meetings have given us a much better understanding of what people expect and how we can carry these conversations on in the future to make sure the Parliament is delivering all it can for people. My thanks to everyone who took part.

Scottish Parliament 25th Anniversary Regional Programme

The Presiding Officer is leading a regional programme of visits to each of the eight Scottish Parliamentary regions to mark the 25th anniversary of the Scottish Parliament. This was the sixth visit of eight. The Scottish Parliament's Participation & Communities Team has developed a programme of community engagement in collaboration with communities. The approach is to involve communities in the development of activities and to hear from people in ways that suit them best. For the sixth regional day in the West of Scotland Region, we worked in partnership with the Dunterlie Action Group supported by the Corra Foundation and with West Dunbartonshire Youth Council supported by West Dunbartonshire Council. Together we aimed for events which were friendly and inclusive and involved people who may not usually engage with the Scottish Parliament. We know that not everyone can easily engage with Parliament. We're exploring ways to connect with more people, so that they can have their say in the work we do.

This report outlines the event that took place in Clydebank with West Dunbartonshire Youth Council.

West Dunbartonshire Youth Council

Membership is open to young people aged 12 - 25 who live, work or study in West Dunbartonshire and are interested in making a difference for local young people.

The West Dunbartonshire Youth Council (WDYC) was started in 2019 after the unsuccessful candidates of the MSYP elections still wanted to make a difference in the local community. As a collective they decided to use their passion for making a change into a local youth group that advocates and aids young people in the local authority. Since then, the WDYC has grown from the small group it once was into a group of passionate and inspired young individuals.

Since the creation of the WDYC it has led countless successful campaigns throughout West Dunbartonshire including, Shameless Youths, Friends of STEM & Curious in Nature. To help plan these campaigns, WDYC runs consultations in the local authority targeting young people aged 11-25.

Format of the Visit

A Community Celebration at Clydebank Town Hall hosted by West Dunbartonshire Youth Council (WDYC).

WDYC worked with the Participation and Communities Team to plan the event. They designed activities for stalls and decided who they wanted to invite. They said, 'we want to show off and celebrate all of the great groups and activities in our area'. Young people and local groups hosted stalls with activities for young people to hear about what is happening in the area. The Parliament had interactive stalls inviting young people to answer the questions about Parliament and engagement.

- Activities included a cooking demonstration, face painting, creative and wellbeing activities, and a DJ.
- A DJ played music to welcome everyone as they arrived and food was served.
- West Dunbartonshire Youth Council, the Presiding Officer and MSPs gave introductions.
- There was a marketplace style format with local youth groups hosting stalls to tell the Parliament about their activities and projects. The Parliament hosted stalls inviting the local community to answer the questions about the Parliament and engagement.
- Young people took part in a creative stained-glass workshop. WDYC invited an artist to facilitate workshops to create a stained-glass window to commemorate the event. The stained-glass window will be made of 100 individual panels each created by a young person in answer to the question 'What do you love about West Dunbartonshire?' The commemorative stained-glass will be permanently displayed in Clydebank Museum.
- The event ended with a disco.
- A Visual Note was made of what people said.
