A community conversation

Monday 24 February 2025

Dunterlie Resource Centre, Dunterlie
West Scotland Region

Introduction

As part of our activities to mark the Parliament's 25th anniversary, we visited the West region to meet with local people to chat about what the Parliament means to them. We were keen to get a good understanding of what their expectations are for the future and how we can better engage with local people. That's what the Parliament is here for - to improve the lives of people in Scotland. It's important that we hear from people directly.

Dunterlie Action Group held a community event at the Dunterlie Resource Centre where we had good discussions about issues like funding and resources for communities, housing and transport. We had really good, lively conversations.

The meetings have given us a much better understanding of what people expect and how we can carry these conversations on in the future to make sure the Parliament is delivering all it can for people. My thanks to everyone who took part.

Scottish Parliament 25th Anniversary

Regional Programme

The Presiding Officer is leading a regional programme of visits to each of the eight Scottish Parliamentary regions to mark the 25th anniversary of the Scottish Parliament. This was the sixth visit of eight. The Scottish Parliament's Participation & Communities Team has developed a programme of community engagement in collaboration with communities. The approach is to involve communities in the development of activities and to hear from people in ways that suit them best. For the sixth regional day in the West of Scotland Region, we worked in partnership with the Dunterlie Action Group supported by the Corra Foundation and with West Dunbartonshire Youth Council Youth Council supported by West Dunbartonshire Council. Together we aimed for events which were friendly and inclusive and involved people who may not usually engage with the Scottish Parliament. We know that not everyone can easily engage with Parliament. We're exploring ways to connect with more people, so that they can have their say in the work we do.

This report outlines the event that took place in Dunterlie with Dunterlie Action Group.

Attendees

Presiding Officer: Rt Hon Alison Johnstone MSP.

Members of the Scottish Parliament: Tom Arthur MSP, Neil Bibby MSP, Pam Gosal MSP, Stuart McMillan MSP.

Dunterlie Action Group

Dunterlie Action Group supports local people to build and develop community in Dunterlie and is made up of representatives from 11 local groups, and is supported by partners including the Corra Foundation, Barrhead Housing Association and East Renfrewshire Council.

Working alongside the Corra Foundation for the past 8 years the Action Group have developed a huge sense of momentum, community and cohesion in Dunterlie with 15 new groups operating in the Resource Centre and over 300 people using the centre on a weekly basis.

Building on this momentum the Action Group have recently developed their new plan on a page which sets out the aims of the group and the wider community. Including increasing the capacity of the organisation to achieve their aims and work with the community, take greater community ownership of the centre and secure funding to continue their work in the area.

The group hope the plan will provide a roadmap for them to work with the community and partners to continue the development of the centre and the local area as Corra's Getting Alongside Communities project comes to an end in the area.

Format of the Visit

A Community Event at Dunterlie Resource Centre.

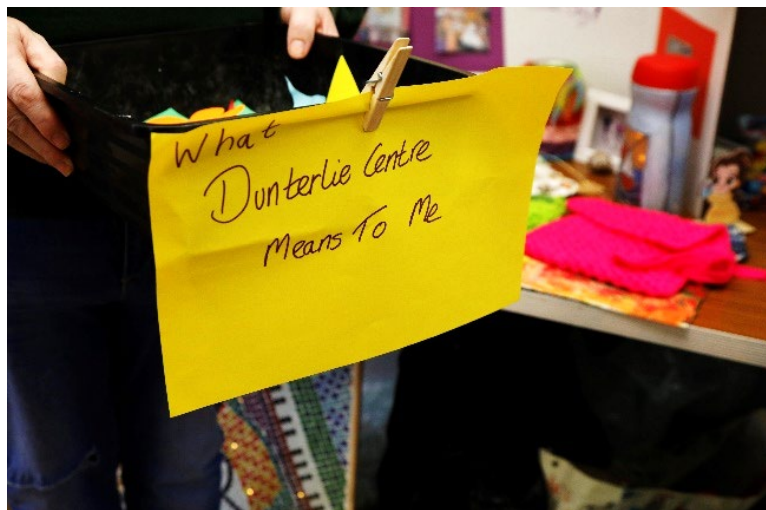

The Folks' Music Project welcomed everyone as they arrived and played during the event. (The Folks' Music Project is a Social Enterprise which aims to offer accessible traditional music tuition and activities to both adults and young people in communities across Greater Glasgow).

- Rena McGuire BEM from Dunterlie Action Group and the Presiding Officer and MSPs gave introductions.
- We held 'Getting to Know You' sessions in a marketplace style format. Local community groups hosted stalls to tell the Parliament about their groups and projects. The Parliament hosted stalls inviting the local community to answer questions about the Parliament and engagement.
- Dunterlie Arts and Craft Group invited people to answer the question 'What Dunterlie Centre Means to Me?' to inform the creation of an artwork to commemorate the event.
- A Visual Notetaker captured what people said.

What Does Dunterlie Centre Mean to You?

In addition to the Parliament questions Dunterlie Action Group asked the community, What Does Dunterlie Centre Mean to You?

“I Like Dunterlie Because...”

Dunterlie is a bright, welcoming, and lively hub where people come together to feel at home. It's a place full of friendship, laughter, and support, where you can enjoy a chat and a cuppa, explore new ideas, and take time for yourself.

The centre offers confidentiality, advice, and encouragement, especially for parents, children, and those seeking connection. Whether it's learning new crafts, joining a class, or simply catching up with friends, Dunterlie is a safe, creative, and inclusive space.

It's a lifeline for the community, helping people stay active, make friends, and improve their well-being. With brilliant staff and a warm atmosphere, Dunterlie is more than a centre—it's a place to belong.
