S5M-00346 Shona Robison: Taking Scotland Forward - Delivering a Healthier

Scotland—That the Parliament agrees that the NHS is the country's most cherished public service and must remain free at the point of need and be publicly owned, funded and operated; further agrees that health and care services must continually evolve, including delivering the benefits of integration; recognises that meeting these challenges necessitates working in partnership across the health sector and the Parliament; believes that primary, community and social care and mental health should all receive an increasing share of the NHS budget each year to ensure that as many people as possible can lead fulfilling, independent lives; considers that health resource funding should increase above inflation every year, with the aim of being £500 million higher than real terms only increases by the end of this parliamentary session; supports a robust consultation process to help develop a new 10-year mental health strategy that cements the parity of status between mental and physical health; notes that the changes to the welfare system being put in place by the UK Government are exacerbating inequalities and putting more pressure on the NHS; considers that health inequalities will require an approach that looks beyond the NHS and that roots activity to address inequalities across government; agrees that the real living wage can help in addressing these inequalities; believes that it would be totally unacceptable if the proposed Transatlantic Trade and Investment Partnership, or any other trade agreement, were to go ahead without explicit protection for the NHS and public services on the face of the agreement, and calls on the UK Government to demand that this be included.

The Presiding Officer has selected the following amendments

S5M-00346.4 Donald Cameron: Taking Scotland Forward - Delivering a Healthier

Scotland—As an amendment to motion S5M-00346 in the name of Shona Robison (Taking Scotland Forward - Delivering a Healthier Scotland), leave out from "notes" to end and insert "believes that the time has come for a review of targets in the NHS to assess whether they are having a positive effect on patient care; aims to put patients at the centre of a flexible decision-making process across health and care services; approves of the UK Government's decision to include protection for the NHS in the proposed Transatlantic Trade and Investment Partnership, and calls for a programme of government that will secure the sustainability of the health service for the next generation and beyond".

S5M-00346.3 Anas Sarwar: Taking Scotland Forward - Delivering a Healthier Scotland—As an amendment to motion S5M-00346 in the name of Shona Robison (Taking Scotland Forward - Delivering a Healthier Scotland), insert at end "; further recognises the link between early diagnosis, treatment time and positive outcomes when dealing with cancer, Scotland's biggest killer, and therefore believes that the Scottish Government must also prioritise achieving the 62-day cancer waiting time standard, which has not been achieved for over three years, and further ensure that, if a GP suspects that a patient has cancer, they should be entitled to see a specialist and get results within a fortnight".

Motions

Motions and amendments are usually printed the day after lodging. When an amendment is lodged, then the original motion will be republished alongside it.

Motions and amendments can be published with symbols:

- * before the number indicates publication for the first time
- ... around a section of text indicates changes to previously published material
- R indicates a member has declared a registered interest

The Parliamentary Bureau periodically deletes motions or amendments that are over six weeks old and not scheduled for debate.

Questions regarding this section should be directed to the Chamber Desk.

Motions for Debate

S5M-00346 Shona Robison: Taking Scotland Forward - Delivering a Healthier Scotland—That the Parliament agrees that the NHS is the country's most cherished public service and must remain free at the point of need and be publicly owned, funded and operated; further agrees that health and care services must continually evolve, including delivering the benefits of integration; recognises that meeting these challenges necessitates working in partnership across the health sector and the Parliament; believes that primary, community and social care and mental health should all receive an increasing share of the NHS budget each year to ensure that as many people as possible can lead fulfilling, independent lives; considers that health resource funding should increase above inflation every year, with the aim of being £500 million higher than real terms only increases by the end of this parliamentary session; supports a robust consultation process to help develop a new 10-year mental health strategy that cements the parity of status between mental and physical health; notes that the changes to the welfare system being put in place by the UK Government are exacerbating inequalities and putting more pressure on the NHS; considers that health inequalities will require an approach that looks beyond the NHS and that roots activity to address inequalities across government; agrees that the real living wage can help in addressing these inequalities; believes that it would be totally unacceptable if the proposed Transatlantic Trade and Investment Partnership, or any other trade agreement, were to go ahead without explicit protection for the NHS and public services on the face of the agreement, and calls on the UK Government to demand that this be included.

S5M-00346.5 Alison Johnstone: Taking Scotland Forward - Delivering a Healthier Scotland—As an amendment to motion S5M-00346 in the name of Shona Robison (Taking Scotland Forward - Delivering a Healthier Scotland), leave out from second "believes" to end and insert "therefore believes that promoting health and reducing pressure on the NHS will require an end to funding cuts of wider public services under the Scottish Government's control; agrees that good health is substantially contingent on factors outside the health service such as affordable and warm housing, nutritious and affordable food, clean air and good public transport services; recognises that people living in Scotland's most deprived areas are the least satisfied with their local greenspace and agrees that increased focus on and investment in preventative measures, such as access to high-quality, nature-rich greenspace, safe walking and cycling routes and access to affordable exercise can increase the health of Scotland's population and that such investment makes economic sense; believes that the proposed Transatlantic Trade and Investment Partnership, and similar free trade agreements, pose a serious threat to the NHS and other public services, and calls on the Scottish Government to oppose such agreements".

S5M-00346.4 Donald Cameron: Taking Scotland Forward - Delivering a Healthier Scotland—As an amendment to motion S5M-00346 in the name of Shona Robison (Taking Scotland Forward - Delivering a Healthier Scotland), leave out from "notes" to end and insert "believes that the time has come for a review of targets in the NHS to assess whether they are having a positive effect on patient care; aims to put patients at the centre of a flexible decision-making process across health and care services; approves of the UK Government's decision to include protection for the NHS in the proposed Transatlantic Trade and Investment Partnership, and calls for a programme of government that will secure the sustainability of the health service for the next generation and beyond".

S5M-00346.3 Anas Sarwar: Taking Scotland Forward - Delivering a Healthier Scotland—As an amendment to motion S5M-00346 in the name of Shona Robison (Taking Scotland Forward - Delivering a Healthier Scotland), insert at end "; further recognises the link between early diagnosis, treatment time and positive outcomes when dealing with cancer, Scotland's biggest killer, and therefore believes that the Scottish Government must also prioritise achieving the 62-day cancer waiting time standard, which has not been achieved for over three years, and further ensure that, if a GP suspects that a patient has cancer, they should be entitled to see a specialist and get results within a fortnight".

S5M-00346.1 Alex Cole-Hamilton: Taking Scotland Forward - Delivering a Healthier Scotland—As an amendment to motion S5M-00346 in the name of Shona Robison (Taking Scotland Forward - Delivering a Healthier Scotland), leave out from first "believes" to end and insert "notes that funding for the NHS in Scotland has slipped and believes that it must stay ahead of inflation and keep pace with that in the rest of the UK; notes that the share of the NHS budget spent on primary and mental health care has consistently fallen under the last two SNP administrations; believes that only record levels of funding for mental health, including doubling the budget for services for children and adolescents, will ensure the step change in provision that Scotland needs; demands that a new mental health strategy is urgently developed and is frustrated that the previous strategy was allowed to expire, causing around half of the additional £150 million announced for mental health in 2015 to remain unallocated; considers that this must also be accompanied by initiatives including putting mental health on the same statutory footing as physical health, more staff to increase the availability of therapies and continued work on suicide prevention; believes that people in every community are already seeing the consequences of the GP crisis and therefore calls for an increase in the proportion of NHS funding allocated to primary care and the trebling of the Primary Care Fund to train, recruit and retain more GPs working in a safe NHS; believes that health and social care professionals must be empowered to exercise their skills and deliver excellent services, and agrees that tackling health inequalities will require an approach that looks beyond the NHS and roots activity to address inequalities across government".

S5M-00345 Liz Smith: Education—That the Parliament, irrespective of whether or not individual MSPs support the principle of the named person policy, recognises the extent of concerns being expressed by many professionals who believe that there are practical difficulties ahead in relation to the delivery of a universal provision of named persons in August 2016; notes that there is confusion among parents about whether engagement with their child's named person is compulsory, and believes that, in light of these significant concerns, there is an urgent need to pause the implementation of the policy and debate whether or not the policy in its current form is workable in the best interests of Scotland's young people.

Other new and altered motions and amendments

S5M-00358 Stuart McMillan: Glasgow Life Launches Appeal—That the Parliament congratulates Glasgow Life on its initiative, with support from Scottish Cycling, for volunteers to be trained as tandem pilots for blind cyclists at both elite and recreational level; notes that there is a number of visually impaired riders who would like to ride the track but are unable to due to a shortage of pilots; understands that Glasgow Life is offering a six-week training programme so that a pool of riders can act as pilots for visually impaired cyclists; further understands that, with successful training, the aim is to have more athletes compete at the 2018 Commonwealth Games in Australia; considers that track cycling is exciting, fun and a very social sport, and wishes Glasgow Life success in recruiting tandem pilots to give more visually impaired riders the opportunity to experience riding on the track.

S5M-00357 Lewis Macdonald: Aberdeen's Golden Games—That the Parliament welcomes the launch of Aberdeen's sixth Golden Games; understands that the Games are an award-winning free festival for older people featuring 80 different activities across 30 venues; understands that the organisers are expecting more than 450 participants over seven days; believes that the activities on offer will include zumba, pickleball, aqua dance, belly dancing, health walks and lawn games among others; further understands that one of the highlights of the Games will be the annual Care Home Pentathlon event; commends the partnership between Aberdeen Health and Social Care Partnership, Aberdeen FC Community Trust, Sport Aberdeen, Aberdeen Sports Village, Aberdeen City Council and NHS Grampian in organising the festival, which aims to encourage older people to become as active as possible, boost their health and meet new people; understands that the Golden Games have been shortlisted for a special award in the Scottish Council for Voluntary Organisations' Scottish Charity Awards 2016, and wishes everyone involved an enjoyable festival.

Supported by: Ivan McKee*, Kenneth Gibson*, Bruce Crawford*

S5M-00356 David Torrance: Congratulations to Fife Migrants Forum—That the Parliament congratulates Fife Migrants Forum, which is based in Kirkcaldy, on receiving a grant of £10,000 from the Voluntary Action Fund (VAF) through its Volunteering Support Fund; recognises that over the last 30 years the VAF has distributed over £90 million in grants to organisations and community groups across Scotland and that, through its programmes, it provides funding and support to tackle disadvantage, challenge inequality and build strong, safe communities; considers that the Fife Migrants Forum has made a considerable contribution to the community since its formation in 2010; understands that it will use this funding to increase the diversity of its volunteers and improve the support and training available to them; commends the help, support, advice and information that the organisation provides to clients from all over Fife, and wishes the forum continued success in the future.

Supported by: Mark Ruskell*, Ivan McKee*, Gillian Martin*, Joan McAlpine*, Mairi Evans*

S5M-00355 Liam McArthur: Remembering the Lives Lost on board HMS Hampshire—That the Parliament pays tribute to the lives lost on board HMS Hampshire when it sank off the coast of Birsay on 5 June 1916, 100 years ago, and pays thanks to all those involved in the special service

S5M-00353 Liam McArthur: Sanday Commemorates the Stories of the B-98 and the U-70—That the Parliament congratulates the Sanday Development Trust Heritage Group on arranging a successful day on 4 June 2016 to commemorate the stories of the B-98 and the U-70 that took part in the Battle of Jutland; notes the links that Sanday has to this historic confrontation, including the wreck of the German B-98 destroyer that lies in Lopness Bay, which is the only vessel from the battle that can still be seen in Orkney; thanks all of the organisers involved with the heritage group on organising a full day of events that included food, music and a number of presentations, including from Heinrich Schurr, whose grandfather led the flotilla in which the B-98 sailed; believes that this ensured that this story was properly told amid the wider commemoration of the Battle of Jutland, and encourages people to visit the exhibition, which highlights the involvement of these two ships and will run throughout the summer.

Supported by: Kenneth Gibson*, Bruce Crawford*, David Torrance*, Douglas Ross*

S5M-00352 Liam McArthur: Stromness Academy Youth Philanthropy Initiative Finals 2016—That the Parliament commends pupils from Stromness Academy on participating in Orkney's Youth Philanthropy Initiative (YPI) final; notes that the YPI is an active citizenship programme that raises awareness among young people about philanthropy and the local community; further notes that each participating school is responsible for directing a £3,000 grant to a local charity through a unique programme of team work, research and competition; understands that three local charities, Friends of the Neuro Ward ARI, MS Orkney and Advocacy Orkney, were represented in the final by pupils from Stromness Academy, who all delivered outstanding presentations outlining why their chosen charity should be awarded the grant; congratulates the winning team of Erin Harcus, Erika Hutchison, Jenny McElroy and Eilidh Warnock on being selected by the panel of judges and securing the £3,000 award for their chosen charity, MS Orkney; recognises that this funding will prove invaluable in supporting MS Orkney's work in assisting those affected by MS; further congratulates all those involved in a successful YPI programme, which has developed better understanding and involvement of young people in the work of the third sector in Orkney, and looks forward to YPI being rolled out to Westray and other schools in Orkney in the near future.

Supported by: Douglas Ross*, Iain Gray*, John Finnie*

S5M-00351 Liam McArthur: Orkney's Junior Inter-county Team Retains the Stuart Cup—That the Parliament congratulates members of Orkney's junior inter-county team on winning the 2016 Stuart Cup; understands that this represents the first time in 22 years that Orkney has retained the trophy, after victory in Shetland in 2015; acknowledges the significant contribution made by the Shetland team members, who came out on top in hard fought, nail-biting contests in athletics, netball and swimming; recognises in particular the phenomenal performance of Orkney's footballers and hockey players, who recorded resounding victories to help secure the Stuart Cup; believes that Ruth Clark and the Orkney hockey team are worthy winners of the Matta Monkman Cup for their decisive and record-breaking 10-0 win; commends the Orkney captains, Taylah Spence and Sam Croy, for leading their team by example and with distinction; further acknowledges the work of the coaches, organisers and volunteers in both Orkney and Shetland, who help make this such a special competition between island communities; further believes that, as fierce as the competition is between both teams, the friendships that are formed are strong and enduring, and looks forward to next year's event in Shetland, in which the Orkney team will be going for the hat-trick.

Supported by: Douglas Ross*, Kenneth Gibson*, David Torrance*, John Finnie*

S5M-00350 Bob Doris: Results of the Scottish Cancer Patient Experience Survey—That the Parliament welcomes the results of the first Scottish Cancer Patient Experience Survey, which was funded by the Scottish Government and Macmillan Cancer Support; understands that it shows that there is a high degree of satisfaction with the treatment provided, with the vast majority of patients rating their care as "highly positive" and 94% giving the service a rating of between seven and 10; further understands that the report also highlights areas of possible improvement, including around signposting to emotional, practical and financial support, and pledges to work with NHS boards, local authorities, charities and others to continue to improve the quality of the cancer care experience.

Supported by: David Torrance*, Kenneth Gibson*, John Mason*, Joan McAlpine*, Ivan McKee*, Bill Kidd*, Rona Mackay*, Bruce Crawford*, Gillian Martin*

S5M-00349 Ross Thomson: BP Announcement a Vote of Confidence in North Sea Oil and Gas—That the Parliament welcomes the announcement from BP that it will create 534 North Sea jobs in the coming months, which it considers a very encouraging vote of confidence in the future of North Sea oil and gas; notes that the installation of modules for the Clair Ridge platform and the imminent arrival of the storage vessel, Glen Lyon, have been hailed as a "once in lifetime" double win for the region; further notes BP's commitment to unlock one billion barrels of oil over the next 40 years, and pledges to continue supporting Scotland's vital energy industry in the coming years.

Supported by: Liz Smith*, David Torrance*, Peter Chapman*, Oliver Mundell*, Alexander Burnett*, Alison Harris*, Kenneth Gibson*, Jeremy Balfour*, Murdo Fraser*, John Lamont*, Margaret Mitchell*, Douglas Ross*, Donald Cameron*

S5M-00348 Miles Briggs: 70th Edition of the Edinburgh International Film Festival—That the Parliament looks forward to the Edinburgh International Film Festival (EIFF), which runs from 15 to 26 June 2016; understands that this will be the 70th EIFF, making it the world's oldest continually running film festival; commends the organisers and sponsors of the festival, which each year welcomes over 1,400 industry delegates, filmmakers and members of the press; considers that the programme for the 2016 EIFF is exciting and diverse, showcasing a total of 161 features from 46 countries, including 22 world premieres; encourages residents from across Lothian and the rest of Scotland to support the festival and the venues across Edinburgh hosting its events; wishes this year's festival every success, and hopes that it remains a popular feature of Edinburgh's vibrant artistic and cultural sector for many years to come.
