S5M-02155 Alexander Stewart: Kincardine Nurse, Angela Baird, up for Top Award—That the Parliament congratulates the Kincardine-based nurse Angela Baird, who is one of four finalists in the running to win the Nurse of the Year title at the Scottish Care Awards dinner, which will be held at the Hilton Hotel in Glasgow on 18 November 2016; understands that Angela is the nurse and deputy manager of the Forth Bay Care Home in Kincardine and that she has shown exceptional aptitude in managing the 22-bed unit since joining it in 2005; notes that, on top of her day job, Angela also finds time to mentor and develop newly-qualified nurses, and wishes her well for the future.

S5M-02154 Neil Findlay: Unite for Humanity—That the Parliament commends the Unite the Union senior organiser for Ireland, Davy Kettles, who has written, performed and released a song and video, Unite for Humanity, to help raise funds for the Save the Children Child Refugee Crisis Appeal; congratulates Unite Scotland on its decision to promote this initiative; believes that Davy's song and the support of the union will help raise money and awareness for people who are fleeing for their lives, and urges all members and everyone else to share Davy's song, which can be found at unitetheunion.org/uniteforhumanity. R

S5M-02153 Iain Gray: Scottish Tree of the Year—That the Parliament welcomes the announcement that the "Ding Dong Tree" at Prestonpans Primary School has been named Scottish Tree of the Year by the Woodland Trust; believes that this is a great accolade for the school and the community in Prestonpans, which supported the bid for the copper beech tree to be given this recognition; notes that it got its name from a tig game that was created by pupils and that it was nominated because of its central importance to the life and identity of the school and for its role both as an outdoor "classroom", particularly for science and art projects, and as a calm place for children to sit and reflect; commends the Woodland Trust on running the contest and encouraging communities across Scotland to take pride in the trees that are important to them, and commends the other five finalists on their participation.

S5M-02147 Alison Johnstone: UN Call for Investment in Walking and Cycling—That the Parliament welcomes the recent UN report, Global outlook on walking and cycling, which states that, as the world's population nears nine billion, "we need to design mobility for our people instead of mobility for our cars"; believes that, although walking is the most immediately accessible mode of travel for many people to adopt and should be a realistic and strongly supported alternative to using cars for short journeys to work, school and for leisure, it faces a lack of sufficient investment; notes that the report highlights that one of the major barriers across the world to cycling is the concern for safety and says that there is "an urgent need to improve this environment and significantly reduce the risks of injury or death, and facilitate a shift to lower carbon modes"; understands that it also makes specific recommendations for national and city policy makers that could save lives, reduce pollution and improve mobility; notes that these include setting aside at least 20% of the total transport budget for non-motorised transport programmes at national and city level; believes that access and mobility affects everyone in society, making it necessary to include a diverse range of stakeholders in the planning and implementation of policies, and that particular attention should be given to more vulnerable users; agrees with the report that "political will" is not only about developing and implementing policies, but also about actively championing non-motorised transport as a mode of equal status to private cars, and believes that, to honour the climate change commitments made in Paris, and for the sake of bringing its infrastructure into line with that of many of its European neighbours, Scotland must begin to take a different approach to transport in general, and active travel in particular, as a matter of priority.

S5M-02146 Alison Johnstone: Welcoming Active Girls Day 2016—That the Parliament welcomes the arrival of Active Girls Day, which takes place on 28 October 2016; notes that Active Girls is a national programme organised by sportscotland to increase girls' and young women's participation in PE, sport and physical activity, with girls across Scotland taking part in a variety of activities, and schools, clubs and hubs being encouraged to focus on opportunities for girls' participation; understands that, according to sportscotland, there is clear evidence of inequality in participation in sports in relation to women and men in Scotland; notes that, by age 14, girls are dropping out of sports at twice the rate of boys; acknowledges the work of organisations such as the Women's Sports Foundation, the Scottish Sports Association and governing bodies in highlighting barriers and opportunities; notes that Active Girls includes programmes delivered in partnership with YDance, Youth Scotland and the Youth Sport Trust, providing more leadership opportunities for girls; recognises the power that girls have to motivate and inspire each other, and wishes all those who take part the very best in what promises to be an enjoyable and inspiring day in the calendar for women's sport in Scotland. R

Bills

A list of all Bills in progress can be accessed via the Scottish Parliament website at:

<http://www.scottish.parliament.uk/parliamentarybusiness/Bills/576.aspx>

For each Bill, the date of the next (or most recent) event in the Bill's passage is given. Other relevant information, e.g. about lodging amendments, is given in italics.

As soon as a Public Bill (i.e. a Government, Committee or Member's Bill) has completed Stage 1, amendments for consideration at Stage 2 may be lodged; and as soon as Stage 2 is completed, amendments for Stage 3 consideration may be lodged. The last lodging day for amendments at Stage 2 is four sitting days before the meeting at which those amendments will be considered (e.g. Wednesday for a meeting on Tuesday); at Stage 3 it is five days before. Amendments may be lodged until 4.30 pm on any sitting day, except on the last lodging day for each Stage, when the deadline is 12 noon.

A Hybrid Bill is subject to the same rules except in the case of Stage 2 where amendments for consideration may be lodged no earlier than the completion of any consideration of evidence at Stage 2.

Amendments to Private Bills are subject to different deadlines. These are set out in Rule 9A.12 of Standing Orders.

Members are advised to lodge amendments in good time before the beginning of a Stage and as early as possible during the day.
