followed by Scottish Labour Party Debate: Milly's Law – Justice for Families

S6M-03491 Anas Sarwar: Milly's Law - Justice for Families—That the Parliament acknowledges that there have been many instances in Scotland where families who have been badly failed, as well as bereaved, due to the actions and neglect of public bodies have struggled to get the justice they and their loved ones deserve; believes that victims and their families should be at the heart of investigations into public tragedy, and calls for a statutory Charter for Families to be binding on public bodies and the establishment of an independent public advocate who can act on behalf of bereaved families and victims, offering them advice and representation, and who is empowered to launch independent investigative panels to facilitate transparency at an early stage.

The Presiding Officer has selected the following amendments

S6M-03491.1 Humza Yousaf: Milly's Law - Justice for Families—As an amendment to motion S6M-03491 in the name of Anas Sarwar (Milly's Law – Justice for Families), leave out from "acknowledges" to end and insert "understands that public services, such as the NHS and Police Scotland, are staffed by people who work each day to care for and support the people of Scotland; recognises that, where the delivery of standards in public services fall short of what everyone would rightly expect, individuals and their families are too often left seeking answers, or justice; further recognises that this pain, not least where a life is lost, can be compounded where families are concerned that they are not being given these answers; believes that individuals and their loved ones who have been harmed should be central to any investigations or inquiries when, regrettably, things have gone wrong; notes that staff working in public bodies should feel safe to raise concerns when they arise, and that structures within the bodies should empower this; supports the creation of an independent Patient Safety Commissioner to champion the patient voice and promote users' perspectives in improving patient safety, as set out in Baroness Cumberlege's report, First Do No Harm; notes that the NHS is subject to an organisational duty of candour, and welcomes that consultation on putting a similar duty on Police Scotland will take place later in 2022."

S6M-03491.2 Sandesh Gulhane: Milly's Law - Justice for Families—As an amendment to motion S6M-03491 in the name of Anas Sarwar (Milly's Law – Justice for Families), insert at end “; further calls for transparency and openness when gross failures come to light, a proactive approach to governance that seeks to avoid tragedy in the first place, improved communication with victims and families, and a more pronounced ministerial effort to deal with institutional hostility towards whistle-blowers and those who warn of problems in their place of work where tragedy ensues.”

followed by Scottish Labour Party Debate: Anne's Law – Protecting the Right of Care Home Visiting S6M-03492 Jackie Baillie: Anne's Law - Protecting the Right of Care Home Visiting—That the Parliament understands that maintaining good social connections are crucial for the wellbeing and quality of life for residents in adult care homes; acknowledges that care homes have been unduly affected by the COVID-19 pandemic, and thousands of residents have been repeatedly separated from their loved ones due to restrictions; regrets that the Scottish Government has not yet brought forward legislation to strengthen the rights of residents and their families so that relatives are recognised as care givers and residents have the right to see and spend time with the people who are important to them, and calls on the Scottish Government to urgently introduce legislation to implement Anne's Law so no one has to again experience what Anne Duke and her family, alongside many other families, had to go through.

S6M-03492.2 Kevin Stewart: Anne's Law - Protecting the Right of Care Home Visiting—As an amendment to motion S6M-03492 in the name of Jackie Baillie (Anne's Law – Protecting the Right of Care Home Visiting), leave out from “understands” to end and insert “recognises that the COVID-19 pandemic uniquely necessitated difficult restrictions in care homes to minimise the risk of transmission of the virus that has proven deadly to the most vulnerable in society; further recognises that these restrictions have other impacts on the wellbeing of residents and that maintaining familial and social connections for care home residents can be vital to their wellbeing; welcomes that later this month the Scottish Government is bringing forward new statutory standards under the Public Services Reform (Scotland) Act 2010 to help ensure visitors can be involved in the care and support of their loved ones as the first step of introducing Anne's Law, and notes that this will be further underpinned by Anne's Law being part of the foundations of the new National Care Service, and that the legislation to deliver this is being introduced in the coming months.”

S6M-03492.1 Craig Hoy: Anne's Law - Protecting the Right of Care Home Visiting—As an amendment to motion S6M-03492 in the name of Jackie Baillie (Anne's Law – Protecting the Right of Care Home Visiting), after “Anne's Law” insert “and to explore extending its scope to include those receiving care in other health and care settings such as hospitals and residential care facilities,”.

followed by Urgent Question: Michael Marra: To ask the Scottish Government whether it will provide an update on SQA exam guidance, in light of reports of significant concern being raised across the sector, regarding the inconsistency and inadequacy of what has been provided.

followed by Ministerial Statement: Scottish Government Response to Report by Independent Advisor on Education Reform

followed by Legislative Consent Motion: Economic Crime (Transparency and Enforcement) Bill

S6M-03493 Keith Brown: Economic Crime (Transparency and Enforcement) Bill - UK

Legislation—That the Parliament agrees that the relevant provisions of the Economic Crime (Transparency and Enforcement) Bill, introduced in the House of Commons on 1 March 2022, relating to amendments for Unexplained Wealth Orders contained in the Proceeds of Crime Act 2002, and provisions relating to the Register of Overseas Interests, so far as these matters fall within the legislative competence of the Scottish Parliament or alter the executive competence of the Scottish Ministers, should be considered by the UK Parliament.

S6M-03493.1 Michael Marra: Economic Crime (Transparency and Enforcement) Bill - UK

Legislation—As an amendment to motion S6M-03493 in the name of Keith Brown (Economic Crime (Transparency and Enforcement) Bill - UK Legislation), insert at end ", but, in so doing, believes that the provisions of part 1 of the Bill should apply to all land owned and registered in Scotland, regardless of when this was acquired."

followed by Scottish Parliamentary Corporate Body Motion: Nomination of a Pension Fund Trustee for the Scottish Parliamentary Contributory Pension Fund

S6M-03545 Jackson Carlaw on behalf of the Scottish Parliamentary Corporate Body: Scottish Parliamentary Contributory Pension Fund—That the Parliament appoints Gordon MacDonald MSP as a Fund trustee of the Scottish Parliamentary Contributory Pension Fund, further to his nomination for such appointment by the Parliamentary corporation.
