followed by Scottish Conservative and Unionist Party Debate: Scotland's Ferries

S6M-03712 Graham Simpson: Scotland's Ferries—That the Parliament believes that islanders, island economies and all those reliant on vital ferry links are being severely let down by the failure to deliver a resilient ferry fleet; calls on the Scottish Government to increase funding to build new ferries in the next five years and to commit to spending £1.4 billion in the next 10 years in order to bring down the average age of ferries and to upgrade ports; is deeply alarmed and disappointed with the late arrival of new operational vessels for the Clyde and Hebridean routes; understands that the construction of vessels 801 and 802, which were due to be delivered in May and July 2018 respectively, are severely delayed; notes with disappointment that the Scottish Government has yet to confirm a revised timetable for the completion of vessels 801 and 802, following the identification of issues with the cabling; believes that the Scottish Government has made insufficient progress on acting on the recommendations set out in the report by the Rural Economy and Connectivity Committee, in Session 5, on ferry construction and procurement; calls upon the Scottish Government to publish an unredacted copy of the Project Neptune report compiled by Ernst and Young, and further calls for a full public inquiry into the Scottish Government's failure to renew the ageing ferry network based on a workable ferries plan.

The Presiding Officer has selected the following amendments

S6M-03712.2 Jenny Gilruth: Scotland's Ferries—As an amendment to motion S6M-03712 in the name of Graham Simpson (Scotland's Ferries), leave out from "believes that islanders" to end and insert "agrees that ferry services provide an essential lifeline to island and remote rural communities and their economies; recognises that, through adverse weather events and COVID-19 causing many cancellations on the Clyde and Hebrides Ferry Services routes, this has been a challenging winter for island residents, businesses and communities; commends the vessel masters for the key role that they are trained to play in ensuring people's and vessels' safety with the decisions that they make about how and when ferries can sail; acknowledges that technical issues causing some vessels to be further laid up have added to people's frustrations and inconvenience; notes that, since 2007, over £2 billion has been invested in service contracts, new vessels and infrastructure and that, in the current five-year period, a further £580 million has been committed, enabling harbour investments, two new vessels for Islay to be built and the purchase of the MV Loch Frisa; further notes the Scottish Government commitment to publish the Islands Connectivity Plan by the end of 2022; welcomes that the Scottish Government saved Ferguson Marine, the last commercial shipyard on the Clyde, from closure, rescuing more than 300 jobs and ensuring that two new ferry vessels will be delivered, while noting the planned revised timetable and costs for completion of these two vessels; condemns the recent actions by P&O Ferries in the strongest possible terms, and makes clear the Scottish Government's support for P&O Ferries employees, and agrees that "fire and rehire" practices should be outlawed and have no place in a fairer, greener Scotland."

S6M-03712.1 Neil Bibby: Scotland's Ferries—As an amendment to motion S6M-03712 in the name of Graham Simpson (Scotland's Ferries), insert at end “; considers that a Scottish Government apology should be issued to island communities and the Ferguson Marine workforce, who have been affected by failures in the procurement and delivery of vessels 801 and 802; calls on the First Minister to lead government efforts to secure the completion of vessels 801 and 802 by taking ministerial responsibility for government investments in Ferguson Marine; believes that a national ferry building and procurement programme, developed in consultation with trade unions, should create new opportunities for Ferguson Marine to secure ferry contracts, and calls on the Scottish Government to protect jobs and promote sustainable growth and fair work in Scotland's marine economy."

followed by Members' Business — S6M-03609 Ross Greer: Industrial Relations in the College Sector

S6M-03609 Ross Greer: Industrial Relations in the College Sector—That the Parliament is concerned by the record of industrial relations in the college sector over the last decade; understands that nationwide industrial action by lecturers has taken place in six of the last eight years, largely due to the perceived failure to implement previous agreements on pay, conditions and status; further understands that one such example of industrial action was the "fire and rehire" incident at Forth Valley College in 2021, which, it believes, became the catalyst for a national strike and resulted in the affected lecturers being reinstated to their previous positions; notes with regret reports that the nationally agreed disputes resolution process is not yet in place at all colleges; believes that staff feel their extensive efforts to support students throughout the COVID-19 pandemic have not been recognised and that this, in combination with frustration over pay awards to senior management, has left many feeling demotivated; recognises what it sees as the pivotal role played by college teaching and support staff throughout the pandemic, and believes that colleges, including those in the West of Scotland, have a critical role to play in Scotland's economic recovery from COVID-19, efforts to tackle the climate emergency, and the eradication of child poverty.

Sustainable Development Goal 6: water and sanitation for all by 2030; welcomes that this year the focus is groundwater, which, it believes, can be described as an invisible resource that has an impact visible everywhere; notes that groundwater is water that is found underground in aquifers, which are geological formations of rocks, sands and gravels that often hold substantial quantities of water that feeds springs, rivers, lochs and wetlands, and seeps into oceans, while also recharging mainly from rain and snowfall infiltrating the ground; considers that life would not be possible without groundwater as most arid areas of the world depend entirely on groundwater to supply a large proportion of the water used for drinking, sanitation, food production and industrial processes; further considers that exploring, protecting and sustainably using groundwater will be central to surviving, and believes that groundwater will be integral to adapting to climate change and meeting the needs of a growing population.

Movement—That the Parliament recognises the Scottish suffrage movement whose deeds not words, it considers, progressed the pursuit of female enfranchisement across the United Kingdom; understands that March 2022 marks the 110th anniversary of the jailing of Emmeline Pankhurst and 148 other women for a mass window-smashing campaign in London; further understands that 11 of the 149 women arrested were from Scotland, including Edinburgh nurse, Edith Hudson, Janie Allan from Glasgow, and Glasgow sisters, Margaret and Frances McPhun, who all went on hunger strike in Holloway prison and were force fed; believes that Kent-born Ethel Moorhead was the first suffragette to be force fed in Scotland, at Edinburgh's Calton jail in February 1914; recognises that suffragette, Frances Gordon, from Croydon, was prosecuted at the High Court in Glasgow for attempted fire-raising and understands that when leaving court she said "trust in God, constant war and fight on"; understands that she was force fed in Perth Prison, as was Arabella Scott, from Dunoon, who later described a force-feeding tube being pushed into her stomach as pieces of her broken teeth and blood washed around in her mouth; further understands that others, including Frances Parker and Maude Edwards, were force fed in Perth prison; expresses remorse at what it sees as society's cruel and inhumane treatment of those who were prosecuted and imprisoned; notes reports that some suffragettes used aliases to hide their middle or upper class status in order to prevent the authorities treating them more favourably; regrets that many of these women's brave and selfless acts are not, it believes, given the recognition they merit, and calls on public institutions to consider what steps can be taken to do more to improve recognition; commends these women and the many others who bravely put their lives and livelihoods on the line across the United Kingdom to campaign for the right to vote; notes that the theme of this year's International Women's Day, on 8 March 2022, was "Break the Bias", and expresses solidarity with women in the UK and elsewhere around the world who continue to campaign for equality.

Progress of Legislation

A list of all Bills in progress can be accessed via the Scottish Parliament website at:

<https://www.parliament.scot/bills-and-laws/bills>

For each Bill, the date of the next (or most recent) event in the Bill's passage is given. Other relevant information, e.g. about lodging amendments, is given in italics.

As soon as a Public Bill (i.e. a Government, Committee or Member's Bill) has completed Stage 1, amendments for consideration at Stage 2 may be lodged; and as soon as Stage 2 is completed, amendments for Stage 3 consideration may be lodged. The last lodging day for amendments at Stage 2 is four sitting days before the meeting at which those amendments will be considered (e.g. Wednesday for a meeting on Tuesday); at Stage 3 it is five days before. Amendments may be lodged until 4.30 pm on any sitting day, except on the last lodging day for each Stage, when the deadline is 12 noon.

A Hybrid Bill is subject to the same rules except in the case of Stage 2 where amendments for consideration may be lodged no earlier than the completion of any consideration of evidence at Stage 2.

Amendments to Private Bills are subject to different deadlines. These are set out in Rule 9A.12 of Standing Orders.

Members are advised to lodge amendments in good time before the beginning of a Stage and as early as possible during the day.

(G) = Government Bill; (M) = Member's Bill; (C) = Committee Bill; (P) = Private Bill; (H) = Hybrid Bill.
