S6M-08196 Martin Whitfield: Two Years since the UNCRC (Incorporation) (Scotland) Bill was Passed—That Parliament notes that 16 March 2023 marks two years since the Scottish Parliament committed, it considers, to delivering a revolution in children’s rights, by unanimously passing the United Nations Convention on the Rights of the Child (Incorporation) (Scotland) Bill; believes that, by taking what it sees as a maximalist approach to incorporating children’s rights into Scots law, Scotland is aiming to deliver a fundamental culture shift that, it considers, will transform the life chances and outcomes for children and young people, including in the South Scotland region; acknowledges that the Bill was passed after over 10 years of campaigning by children, young people and their families, and supported by children’s organisations across Scotland; further acknowledges reports that the passage of the Bill was celebrated widely by children and young people through to teachers, social workers, the police, MSPs from across all political parties, and members of UN committees; accepts that The Supreme Court of the United Kingdom ruled that the Bill needs to be amended to bring it within the competence of the Scottish Parliament; acknowledges the view that children and young people still do not know what timescale the Scottish Government is working to, or how long this process will take, and understands that, in the run-up to the anniversary of the Bill being passed, charities are urging MSPs to set out to children their continued commitment to the incorporation of the United Nations Convention on the Rights of the Child (UNCRC) into Scots law and to supporting reconsideration of the Bill that brings it within the Parliament’s competence, and are requesting that the Scottish Government sets out a proposed timescale for the reconsideration process so that children and young people know when UNCRC incorporation will be a reality in their lives.

worrying lack of nurses in social care services, with over 1,300 fewer registered nurses in care homes for adults since 2014, which is a 25.7% decrease; understands that, as a result of workforce shortages, the RCN's 2021 Employment Survey found that 73% of RCN Scotland members work overtime at least once per week, and that nearly 40% of them do so most shifts, many of them noting that this overtime is unpaid; recognises that, according to the briefing paper, the main reasons for nurses considering leaving their jobs are that they feel undervalued, are under too much pressure and are feeling concern over the ever-increasing low staffing levels; acknowledges that, according to UCAS data, applications to nursing courses starting later in 2023 have fallen by 24%; understands that less than a half of nurses would recommend nursing as a career; joins the RCN in urging the Scottish Government to develop a Scottish Nursing Retention Strategy, whereby it will outline actions to improve working conditions, ensure that nursing staff can develop and progress their careers, promote health at work, enable and promote flexible working, increase support for nurses in the early stages of their careers, improve staff engagement as well as recruitment, and increase student retention; commends the hard work of all registered nurses and nursing support workers, and thanks them for their work.

S6M-08027 Gillian Mackay: Young Carers Action Day 2023—That the Parliament acknowledges that 15 March 2023 marks Young Carers Action Day; welcomes the annual campaign initiative, led by Carers Trust Scotland; commends what it sees as the immense contribution that young carers make to society by caring for their family members or friends who are ill, frail, disabled or have mental health or addiction problems; recognises that the theme for 2023 is "Make Time for Young Carers"; welcomes a new research report by Carers Trust, Being a young carer is not a choice; it's just what we do, which highlights the impact of the cost of living crisis on children and young people with caring responsibilities; is concerned at the report's findings that two-thirds of young carers and their families are affected by the cost of living crisis, and that over one third of those are experiencing additional costs because they are a young carer; believes that it is important for young carers and their families to receive additional financial support to help them with the extra costs of providing unpaid care; recognises that over 50% of young carers feel stressed because of being an unpaid carer; considers it to be important that young carers get regular breaks from caring, to support positive wellbeing, reduce social isolation and live a fulfilled life outside of caring; believes that all young carers should have a right to the breaks that they need; considers it to be important that professionals and responsible adults make more time to listen to young carers explaining the challenges that they face, so that they can better understand how to support young carers; understands that young carers want lasting, meaningful change to take place to ensure that young carers now, and in the future, remain at the forefront of policy development, and have access to the support that they are entitled to and deserve; believes that young carers across Scotland must have a fair chance to prosper in all aspects of their lives, so that they can achieve their full potential, and wishes all those involved in this year's #YoungCarersActionDay the very best of luck in their endeavours.

Progress of Legislation

A list of all Bills in progress can be accessed via the Scottish Parliament website at:

<https://www.parliament.scot/bills-and-laws/bills>

For each Bill, the date of the next (or most recent) event in the Bill's passage is given. Other relevant information, e.g. about lodging amendments, is given in italics.

As soon as a Public Bill (i.e. a Government, Committee or Member's Bill) has completed Stage 1, amendments for consideration at Stage 2 may be lodged; and as soon as Stage 2 is completed, amendments for Stage 3 consideration may be lodged. The last lodging day for amendments at Stage 2 is four sitting days before the meeting at which those amendments will be considered (e.g. Wednesday for a meeting on Tuesday); at Stage 3 it is five days before. Amendments may be lodged until 4.30 pm on any sitting day, except on the last lodging day for each Stage, when the deadline is 12 noon.

A Hybrid Bill is subject to the same rules except in the case of Stage 2 where amendments for consideration may be lodged no earlier than the completion of any consideration of evidence at Stage 2.
