followed by Ministerial Statement: Impact of UK Government Decisions on Scotland's Social Care Sector

followed by Scottish Conservative and Unionist Party Debate: Review of Additional Support for Learning and Implementation of Mainstreaming

S6M-17524 Miles Briggs: Review of Additional Support for Learning and Implementation of Mainstreaming—That the Parliament notes the Audit Scotland report calling for a fundamental review of planning and resourcing of additional support for learning in Scotland; recognises concerns over declining numbers of additional support workers and classroom assistants; highlights the need to understand the rise in pupils with additional support needs to better target resources and training; calls on the Scottish Government and local authorities to deliver a new model of support alongside the NHS Education for Scotland trauma-informed practice training on neurodivergence and autism; expresses concern over changes to attention deficit hyperactivity disorder (ADHD) and autism diagnosis pathways removing children from child and adolescent mental health services (CAMHS) support without suitable alternatives, and calls on the Scottish Ministers to undertake a national review into the implementation of mainstreaming policy and the availability of specialist additional school places across local authorities.

The Presiding Officer has selected the following amendments

S6M-17524.3 Maree Todd: Review of Additional Support for Learning and Implementation of Mainstreaming—As an amendment to motion S6M-17524 in the name of Miles Briggs (Review of Additional Support for Learning and Implementation of Mainstreaming), insert at end “; agrees that all children and young people should receive the help that they need to thrive, and thanks Scotland's hard-working teachers, support staff and the wider education workforce for all that they do every day to support pupils.”

S6M-17524.1 Pam Duncan-Glancy: Review of Additional Support for Learning and Implementation of Mainstreaming—As an amendment to motion S6M-17524 in the name of Miles Briggs (Review of Additional Support for Learning and Implementation of Mainstreaming), insert at end “; notes that the Scottish Parliament's Education, Children and Young People Committee found that the 'overwhelming view' of evidence was that 'the principle of the presumption of mainstreaming is laudable and should be supported' but that the gap between the policy intention and its implementation is 'intolerable' and must be addressed; believes that parents and carers of young people with additional support needs (ASN) should not have to fight for everything that their child needs; regrets that, years on from the Morgan Review, there has not been enough progress; believes that teacher workload and the lack of availability of other support services and staff that young people with ASN need have contributed to a system that is overstretched, and calls on the Scottish Ministers to urgently bring forward a comprehensive strategy to increase the ASN and pastoral care workforce, restore access to vital support services, and create a specific ASN parents forum to feed directly into policy.”

followed by Scottish Conservative and Unionist Party Debate: Protecting Scotland's Oil and Gas Industry

S6M-17525 Douglas Lumsden: Protecting Scotland's Oil and Gas Industry—That the Parliament recognises the importance of reducing emissions in a way that is credible, costed and publicly supported; regrets the absence of a clear, deliverable plan for achieving net zero, particularly in relation to the future of Scotland's energy sector and industrial base; condemns the Scottish and UK governments' ideological opposition to oil and gas, nuclear power and a balanced energy policy; calls on the UK Government to end its policy of issuing no new oil and gas licences; notes with deep concern the economic and employment impacts of the closure of the Grangemouth refinery and recent job losses at Harbour Energy in Aberdeen; further notes that the increase and extension of the UK Government's Energy Profits Levy has had a damaging effect on investment in the North Sea; argues that current Scottish Government policy on nuclear, oil and gas is having a detrimental effect on energy prices and energy security; points out that Great British Energy is a gimmick that will do nothing to bring down bills, and condemns the explosion of electricity infrastructure across the Scottish countryside, and calls on the Scottish Government to adopt a pragmatic, pro-growth energy strategy that supports the workforce, secures investment, delivers affordability and ensures energy reliability and national competitiveness for the future.

The Presiding Officer has selected the following amendments

S6M-17525.3 Gillian Martin: Protecting Scotland's Oil and Gas Industry—As an amendment to motion S6M-17525 in the name of Douglas Lumsden (Protecting Scotland's Oil and Gas Industry), leave out from "regrets" to end and insert "notes with deep concern the economic and employment impacts of the closure of the Grangemouth refinery and recent job losses at Harbour Energy in Aberdeen; further notes that the increase and extension of the UK Government's Energy Profits Levy, by the previous and current UK administrations, has had a damaging effect on North Sea investment, including on the transition; believes that a just transition must support workers and that the transition to net zero must deliver tangible benefits for consumers, communities and the wider economy; argues that the voice of communities must be heard in this process; condemns the anti-climate rhetoric of the Conservative Party, which ignores the reality of the impacts of climate change, and calls on the UK Government to fully fund and support the Acorn/Scottish Cluster carbon capture project and demonstrate that, unlike the previous UK administration, it supports this vital scheme for jobs in Grangemouth and the north east of Scotland."

S6M-17525.1 Michael Marra: Protecting Scotland's Oil and Gas Industry—As an amendment to motion S6M-17525 in the name of Douglas Lumsden (Protecting Scotland's Oil and Gas Industry), leave out from first "condemns" to end and insert "recognises the UK Government's commitment to a sustainable long-term energy mix, including increased renewable sources, new modern nuclear generation as well as continued oil and gas production for decades to come; notes the loss of jobs at Grangemouth and recently announced job losses at Harbour Energy, which re-emphasise the need for a just transition plan including the immediate publication of the long-delayed Scottish energy strategy; commends the creation of Great British Energy as a publicly owned energy generation company, headquartered in Aberdeen, which will help to deliver energy security, build supply chains, create thousands of jobs across the country and reduce energy bills over the long term; welcomes the £200 million of funding committed to the Grangemouth transition as part of a clean energy future to power Scotland's economy and communities, and calls on the Scottish National Party administration to drop its ideological opposition to nuclear power."

S6M-16920 Kenneth Gibson: Marine Conservation Society Publishes 2024 State of our Beaches Report—That the Parliament welcomes the publication of the Marine Conservation Society 2024 report, State of our Beaches, which compiles data gathered through the organisation's year-round citizen science initiative, Beachwatch; acknowledges that Beachwatch was launched in 1994; believes that it provides one of the most detailed datasets on marine litter across the whole of the UK; applauds the 4,000 volunteers who attended beach cleans across Scotland in 2024, including in the Cunninghame North constituency, which represents a 25% increase in volunteers compared to 2023; notes that they removed over 10,000 kg of litter from Scotland's beaches in 2024, consisting of around 527,000 separate items; expresses concern that, on average, 204 items of litter were found for every 100 metres across Scotland's beaches, which represents a 7.2% increase on 2023 and is higher than the UK-wide average of 170 items per 100 metres; understands that 22,000 wet wipes were found on Scotland's beaches in 2024, and that drinks-related litter was recorded on 95% of surveyed beaches; acknowledges that marine litter not only harms what it sees as Scotland's beautiful coastline, but can also damage marine habitats; notes the view that reducing marine litter will require not only behavioural changes, but also a range of policy changes, including the introduction of circular economy measures and the phasing-out of single-use plastic items, and further notes calls for the Scottish Government to continue its work alongside key stakeholders to drive down marine litter across Scotland's beaches.

Motions for Debate

S6M-17539 Angus Robertson: Scotland in Today's Europe—That the Parliament agrees that the best relationship that Scotland and the UK can have with the EU is to be a member of the EU; calls on the UK Government to drop its red lines on the single market, customs union and freedom of movement; further calls on the UK Government, at its forthcoming summit with the EU, as a first step, to negotiate an ambitious veterinary, food and drink agreement, closer energy and climate co-operation, greater freedom of movement, including opportunities for young people, and further measures to lessen the ongoing economic, social and cultural damage of Brexit, and believes that it is unacceptable that the UK Government has not shared any draft summit texts with the Scottish or other devolved governments.

S6M-17525 Douglas Lumsden: Protecting Scotland's Oil and Gas Industry—That the Parliament recognises the importance of reducing emissions in a way that is credible, costed and publicly supported; regrets the absence of a clear, deliverable plan for achieving net zero, particularly in relation to the future of Scotland's energy sector and industrial base; condemns the Scottish and UK governments' ideological opposition to oil and gas, nuclear power and a balanced energy policy; calls on the UK Government to end its policy of issuing no new oil and gas licences; notes with deep concern the economic and employment impacts of the closure of the Grangemouth refinery and recent job losses at Harbour Energy in Aberdeen; further notes that the increase and extension of the UK Government's Energy Profits Levy has had a damaging effect on investment in the North Sea; argues that current Scottish Government policy on nuclear, oil and gas is having a detrimental effect on energy prices and energy security; points out that Great British Energy is a gimmick that will do nothing to bring down bills, and condemns the explosion of electricity infrastructure across the Scottish countryside, and calls on the Scottish Government to adopt a pragmatic, pro-growth energy strategy that supports the workforce, secures investment, delivers affordability and ensures energy reliability and national competitiveness for the future.

S6M-17525.3 Gillian Martin: Protecting Scotland's Oil and Gas Industry—As an amendment to motion S6M-17525 in the name of Douglas Lumsden (Protecting Scotland's Oil and Gas Industry), leave out from "regrets" to end and insert "notes with deep concern the economic and employment impacts of the closure of the Grangemouth refinery and recent job losses at Harbour Energy in Aberdeen; further notes that the increase and extension of the UK Government's Energy Profits Levy, by the previous and current UK administrations, has had a damaging effect on North Sea investment, including on the transition; believes that a just transition must support workers and that the transition to net zero must deliver tangible benefits for consumers, communities and the wider economy; argues that the voice of communities must be heard in this process; condemns the anti-climate rhetoric of the Conservative Party, which ignores the reality of the impacts of climate change, and calls on the UK Government to fully fund and support the Acorn/Scottish Cluster carbon capture project and demonstrate that, unlike the previous UK administration, it supports this vital scheme for jobs in Grangemouth and the north east of Scotland."

Supported by: Alasdair Allan*

S6M-17525.2 Patrick Harvie: Protecting Scotland's Oil and Gas Industry—As an amendment to motion S6M-17525 in the name of Douglas Lumsden (Protecting Scotland's Oil and Gas Industry), leave out from "in a way" to end and insert "to achieve net zero by 2045 as repeatedly agreed by all political parties in the Scottish Parliament; regrets that many of those who supported legally binding targets opposed the actions necessary to reach them, and that this resulted in the advice from the UK Climate Change Committee that the interim 2030 target was out of reach; considers accelerated action to reduce greenhouse gas emissions to be vital for securing prosperity for future generations and to deliver climate justice for the most vulnerable nations in the Global South; notes in particular that Scotland's transport, heating, land use and industry have seen significantly lower emission cuts than necessary; agrees that this failure cannot be repeated in the final two decades of the journey to net zero, and that accelerated progress is therefore needed; regrets that the Scottish Government's Energy Strategy and Just Transition Plan has been subject to unacceptable delay; believes that it must reassert clear opposition to any new licensing of fossil fuel extraction, and calls on the Scottish Government to publish it alongside its proposals for the first carbon budgets before the summer recess 2025; condemns the reported comments of the Shadow Minister for Energy Security and Net Zero, Andrew Bowie MP, who has described the Intergovernmental Panel on Climate Change as biased, and stated that the Conservative and Unionist Party is considering supporting withdrawal from the Paris climate agreement; recognises the scale of profit extracted by the fossil fuel industry over many decades, including from Scotland, at a time when it was clearly aware of the scale of damage that greenhouse gas emissions were doing, and believes that a just transition protecting workers and communities will only be possible if both the Scottish and UK governments force the industry to invest significantly in the clean industries of the future and in their workforce."

S6M-17525.1 Michael Marra: Protecting Scotland's Oil and Gas Industry—As an amendment to motion S6M-17525 in the name of Douglas Lumsden (Protecting Scotland's Oil and Gas Industry), leave out from first "condemns" to end and insert "recognises the UK Government's commitment to a sustainable long-term energy mix, including increased renewable sources, new modern nuclear generation as well as continued oil and gas production for decades to come; notes the loss of jobs at Grangemouth and recently announced job losses at Harbour Energy, which re-emphasise the need for a just transition plan including the immediate publication of the long-delayed Scottish energy strategy; commends the creation of Great British Energy as a publicly owned energy generation company, headquartered in Aberdeen, which will help to deliver energy security, build supply chains, create thousands of jobs across the country and reduce energy bills over the long term; welcomes the £200 million of funding committed to the Grangemouth transition as part of a clean energy future to power Scotland's economy and communities, and calls on the Scottish National Party administration to drop its ideological opposition to nuclear power."

S6M-17524 Miles Briggs: Review of Additional Support for Learning and Implementation of Mainstreaming—That the Parliament notes the Audit Scotland report calling for a fundamental review of planning and resourcing of additional support for learning in Scotland; recognises concerns over declining numbers of additional support workers and classroom assistants; highlights the need to understand the rise in pupils with additional support needs to better target resources and training; calls on the Scottish Government and local authorities to deliver a new model of support alongside the NHS Education for Scotland trauma-informed practice training on neurodivergence and autism; expresses concern over changes to attention deficit hyperactivity disorder (ADHD) and autism diagnosis pathways removing children from child and adolescent mental health services (CAMHS) support without suitable alternatives, and calls on the Scottish Ministers to undertake a national review into the implementation of mainstreaming policy and the availability of specialist additional school places across local authorities.

S6M-17524.3 Maree Todd: Review of Additional Support for Learning and Implementation of Mainstreaming—As an amendment to motion S6M-17524 in the name of Miles Briggs (Review of Additional Support for Learning and Implementation of Mainstreaming), insert at end "; agrees that all children and young people should receive the help that they need to thrive, and thanks Scotland's hard-working teachers, support staff and the wider education workforce for all that they do every day to support pupils."

Supported by: Jenny Gilruth*, Natalie Don-Innes*, Graeme Dey*

S6M-17524.2 Ross Greer: Review of Additional Support for Learning and Implementation of Mainstreaming—As an amendment to motion S6M-17524 in the name of Miles Briggs (Review of Additional Support for Learning and Implementation of Mainstreaming), insert at end "; notes with concern that only 1,215 children in Scotland have a coordinated support plan (CSP), which represents just 0.4% of all children with a recognised additional support need; understands that CSPs are the only support plan with statutory underpinning, giving children and their parents or carers the option of pursuing redress through a tribunal if their needs are not met, and believes that the criteria for CSP eligibility, as set out in the Education (Additional Support for Learning) (Scotland) Act 2004, should be reviewed and, if necessary, the Act amended to move the eligibility criteria into regulations, which can be revised as required in response to developments in Scottish education and society."

S6M-17524.1 Pam Duncan-Glancy: Review of Additional Support for Learning and Implementation of Mainstreaming—As an amendment to motion S6M-17524 in the name of Miles Briggs (Review of Additional Support for Learning and Implementation of Mainstreaming), insert at end "; notes that the Scottish Parliament's Education, Children and Young People Committee found that the 'overwhelming view' of evidence was that 'the principle of the presumption of mainstreaming is laudable and should be supported' but that the gap between the policy intention and its implementation is 'intolerable' and must be addressed; believes that parents and carers of young people with additional support needs (ASN) should not have to fight for everything that their child needs; regrets that, years on from the Morgan Review, there has not been enough progress; believes that teacher workload and the lack of availability of other support services and staff that young people with ASN need have contributed to a system that is overstretched, and calls on the Scottish Ministers to urgently bring forward a comprehensive strategy to increase the ASN and pastoral care workforce, restore access to vital support services, and create a specific ASN parents forum to feed directly into policy."

S6M-17419 Michelle Thomson: 30 Years on from the Bosnian Genocide in Srebrenica—

That the Parliament recognises the 30th anniversary of the Bosnian genocide in Srebrenica in which 8,372 innocent civilians were murdered by Bosnian Serb forces; remembers the victims who suffered violence, torture and brutality in what it believes to be the single largest act of ethnic cleansing in Europe since the Second World War; understands that 54 individuals have been prosecuted to date for their role in the massacre but considers that many more were involved in creating the culture and environment, which led to the genocide in Srebrenica, through their use of hate speech, oppression, discrimination and propaganda against the Bosnian Muslim population; praises the work of Mothers of Srebrenica, which, it understands, engaged in protests and other acts of public defiance to demand that the mass graves be found and the victims identified; believes that, to date, more than 7,000 of the reported missing from Srebrenica have been accounted for and buried in marked graves; commends the work of Beyond Srebrenica, whose efforts through its programme, Lessons of Srebrenica, challenge hate and intolerance using the lessons learned from the 1995 Srebrenica genocide, ensuring that they are better understood and prevented in the future; considers that genocide, recognised as an international crime usually carried out during war, is complex to stop and notes the belief that all world leaders must pledge to eradicate it, but that individuals can challenge hate and intolerance, which it considers are the root causes of many conflicts, and reflects on the atrocities of the Srebrenica genocide 30 years on.

S6M-17508 Kevin Stewart: Congratulations to the University of Aberdeen and NHS

Grampian—That the Parliament congratulates the University of Aberdeen and NHS Grampian for being involved in a trial that has successfully identified a new treatment combination to improve rates of remission in cancer patients; notes that the PRIME-RT trial, conducted among patients with advanced rectal cancer, found that the addition of immunotherapy treatment alongside extensive radiotherapy led to better rates of remission, observing rates of 52%, exceeding pre-trial expectations of 30%; understands that the colorectal cancer team at Aberdeen Royal Infirmary, led by Dr Leslie Samuel, Honorary Clinical Chair in Oncology at the University of Aberdeen and Consultant Oncologist for NHS Grampian, collaborated in the UK-wide study; believes that the results of this study will be instrumental in helping people with rectal cancer to avoid radical, life-altering surgery, and hopes that it can help to reduce the mortality rates of rectal cancer, which claims an estimated 410 lives in Scotland every year.

S6M-17507 Kevin Stewart: NHS Grampian UNICEF Baby Friendly Gold Award—That the Parliament congratulates NHS Grampian's maternity services on achieving the UNICEF Baby Friendly Gold Award; notes that the award, which is part of UNICEF's Baby Friendly Initiative, recognises organisations with exceptional and sustained commitment to supporting infant feeding and fostering strong parent-infant relationships; understands that this accreditation shows that NHS Grampian has embedded strong standards across maternity, neonatal, health visiting and wider services for children and families; believes that this award recognises the dedication, hard work and excellence of care provided by those working in NHS Grampian's maternity services, and wishes them well in future UNICEF assessments.

S6M-17506 Kevin Stewart: North Sea Job Losses—That the Parliament calls on the Prime Minister and the UK Government to act now to prevent more job losses in Aberdeen and the North Sea oil and gas sector; considers that Harbour Energy, which recently announced 250 job losses, is just the latest North Sea operator to reportedly cite the Energy Profits Levy, which was raised and extended in the first Labour administration's budget in 2024, and the wider regulatory environment as major determining factors in cutting jobs in their North Sea operations; understands that Unite the Union reports that 2,500 jobs have been lost in the North Sea sector since April 2024 alone; notes that Aberdeen and Grampian Chamber of Commerce has warned of the grave risk of losing the world-class company and skills base that will be required to deliver the offshore wind, green hydrogen and carbon capture projects required for the transition away from fossil fuels, and that a premature end to the North Sea oil and gas sector before renewables are at scale to replace those jobs will result in the UK relying more on carbon-intensive hydrocarbon imports; believes that without action from the UK Government to address concerns over the Energy Profits Levy and other aspects of the North Sea regulatory framework, Aberdeen is at risk of the same fate that befell the many former mining towns across Scotland that it considers were abandoned by the Thatcher administration, and reiterates the calls for the Prime Minister and his Secretary of State for Energy Security and Net Zero to visit Aberdeen and engage meaningfully with industry leaders to find a solution that saves the thousands of jobs that it considers are being put at risk.

to organise and plan its free family festival to take place in Cowan Park, Barrhead, on 21 June 2025; commends the IM2C on all the fantastic work that it undertakes in ensuring that people of different ages and abilities are treated equally and are able to have an enjoyable time and achieve any goals that they may have; further commends the planning that has already gone into making the festival a reality; acknowledges the amount of time and resources that have already gone into this, and appreciates the hard work yet to come in making this a fantastic day for families and people from all over East Renfrewshire.

S6M-17503 Paul O'Kane: Barrhead Primary School Awarded Funding for Tree Planting Initiatives—That the Parliament congratulates St Mark's Primary School on its allocation of funds from the Urban Forestry Programme Challenge Fund; acknowledges that the programme is managed by the Future Woodlands Scotland charity; understands that this charity is instrumental in promoting the introduction of green spaces into dense urban areas aiming for better quality of life; commends St Mark's for being one of seven schools that has been awarded a share of more than £450,000 and notes that the school achieved this through its project, Planting Our way to a Better Future; understands that the aim of this project was to plant a vast variety of trees throughout the entire grounds of the school to promote a number of positive environmental habits from the pupils, and believes that this initiative is not only valuable for its environmental purposes, but hopes that this may help to contribute to positive mental and physical health outcomes for pupils in the school and wider area.

S6M-17500 Bill Kidd: Congratulates the Association of Chinese Entrepreneurs and Saltire and Alum—That the Parliament congratulates Mr Edward Tsang, of the Association of Chinese Entrepreneurs in Scotland, who was delighted to support Mr Shabir Beg OBE, of Saltire and Alam, with his free food distribution service, especially in relation to the Chinese Communities Food Bank and Pantry initiatives in the Glasgow Anniesland constituency, and soon Scotland; further congratulates the Association of Chinese Entrepreneurs for reaching out to its members and the wider Chinese diaspora in Scotland to make them aware of this worthy proposal to assist in tackling the cost of living crisis, which, it believes, is impacting the worst-off disproportionately; notes the trial involvement from both organisations, supported by the Sichuan House and Canton Lane restaurants in Glasgow, to distribute healthy Chinese meals around the Glasgow Anniesland constituency; understands that it was highly successful in achieving both groups' goals and was received with gusto from both individuals and families, who, in their current circumstances, would not otherwise be able to purchase delicious, healthy Chinese cuisine in their regular weekly shop, and welcomes their plans to expand this generous and philanthropic offer around the country.

<https://www.parliament.scot/bills-and-laws/bills>

For each Bill, the date of the next (or most recent) event in the Bill's passage is given. Other relevant information, e.g. about lodging amendments, is given in italics.

As soon as a Public Bill (i.e. a Government, Committee or Member's Bill) has completed Stage 1, amendments for consideration at Stage 2 may be lodged; and as soon as Stage 2 is completed, amendments for Stage 3 consideration may be lodged. The last lodging day for amendments at Stage 2 is four sitting days before the meeting at which those amendments will be considered (e.g. Wednesday for a meeting on Tuesday); at Stage 3 it is five days before. Amendments may be lodged until 4.30 pm on any sitting day, except on the last lodging day for each Stage, when the deadline is 12 noon.

A Hybrid Bill is subject to the same rules except in the case of Stage 2 where amendments for consideration may be lodged no earlier than the completion of any consideration of evidence at Stage 2.

Amendments to Private Bills are subject to different deadlines. These are set out in Rule 9A.12 of Standing Orders.

Members are advised to lodge amendments in good time before the beginning of a Stage and as early as possible during the day.
