Future Committee Meetings

The future business of the Parliament has not yet been agreed to.

Motions

Motions and amendments are usually printed the day after lodging. When an amendment is lodged, then the original motion will be republished alongside it.

Motions and amendments can be published with symbols:

- * before the number indicates publication for the first time
- ... around a section of text indicates changes to previously published material
- R indicates a member has declared a registered interest

The Parliamentary Bureau periodically deletes motions or amendments that are over six weeks old and not scheduled for debate.

Questions regarding this section should be directed to the Chamber Desk.

Members' Business motions that have not achieved cross party support

S7M-00343 Marie McNair: Action Mesothelioma Day 2026—That the Parliament recognises Action Mesothelioma Day 2026, which will be marked on 3 July; understands that this is a national event held each year to raise awareness of mesothelioma and asbestos; notes that mesothelioma is a rare but aggressive form of cancer that is usually caused by exposure to asbestos, with tiny fibres getting into the lungs and damaging them over time; understands that over 2,700 people in the UK are diagnosed with the condition each year, including around 200 in Scotland; notes that the cancer most commonly occurs in the lining of the lung, but can also be found in the lining of both the abdomen and the heart, with symptoms including shortness of breath, chest pain, coughing and tiredness; recognises the importance of grassroots activism to seek justice for victims, including the campaign, Cape Must Pay!, which calls for the former asbestos manufacturer Cape plc, which is now owned by Altrad, to donate £10 million to mesothelioma research; acknowledges with concern what it sees as the time bar injustice for mesothelioma victims and welcomes the Scottish Law Commission report, Report on Damages for Personal Injury; notes the calls for action to be taken to implement the report's findings; welcomes the events taking place across the country and encourages everyone to "Go Blue for Meso" by joining or organising a Blue Light Walk to raise awareness or fundraise; applauds the longstanding and ongoing work of the Clydebank Asbestos Group, which has provided information and support to people with asbestos-related conditions for over 30 years, and hopes for a successful Action Mesothelioma Day 2026.

S7M-00342 Clare Haughey: Asda Blantyre's Support for Local Football Team Blantyre United FC—That the Parliament commends the work of staff at Asda Blantyre, including that of the store's community champion, Mary Sutherland, in supporting local football team Blantyre United FC; understands that the team was set up by former Asda grocery colleague, Alan Dunsmore, to support men's mental health in response to his concerns about his peers during the pandemic; recognises that Alan's continued commitment to the club, as coach, has fostered a culture of support and community for players and supporters alike; understands that Asda Blantyre organised a recent football fun event, which was hosted by the sports broadcaster David Tanner, where Blantyre United were presented with a cheque for £1,000 from the Asda Foundation, as well as football shirts and match and training footballs; remembers that, as Scotland feels the positive power of football during the pre-World Cup excitement, it is grassroots and community clubs like Blantyre United FC who bring people together week in, week out; commends Alan for his continued dedication in taking the club from strength to strength, and wishes the whole team all the very best for the future.

Supported by: Colin Beattie*, Jack Middleton*, Miles Briggs*, David Torrance*

S7M-00341 Murdo Fraser: Congratulating Campbell's Bakery on Becoming Scotland's Oldest Continuously Family-run Bakery—That the Parliament congratulates Campbell's Bakery in Crieff on becoming the oldest bakery still run by the same family in Scotland; understands that the bakery can trace its origins to 1830 when it was founded by Donald Campbell in Callander, then moved to Crieff in 1929 and has been a staple of the town ever since; celebrates the bakery's successes, including opening a second shop in Crieff in 2013 and adapting to the modern world with viral social media videos promoting its excellent produce, and wishes the bakery many more years of success.

S7M-00340 Holly Bruce: Glasgow Clyde College is Further Educational Institution of the Year—That the Parliament congratulates Glasgow Clyde College on being named Further Educational Institution of the Year at the 2026 Herald Higher Education Awards, which were sponsored by The Open University in Scotland; recognises that this prestigious accolade is a reflection of the college's excellence in learning and teaching, equality, wellbeing, partnership working and community engagement; notes the judges' praise for its culture of innovation, collaboration and inclusion; acknowledges what it sees as the transformative impact of its work on students, employers and local communities, including across the Glasgow Southside constituency, through the Langside campus, and commends everyone involved for their continued commitment to creating opportunities and delivering positive outcomes across Scotland.

S7M-00339 Clare Adamson: Recognising PTSD Awareness Day—That the Parliament recognises that PTSD Awareness Day takes place on 27 June every year; believes that this is an opportunity to increase understanding of post-traumatic stress disorder and its impact on veterans and their families; acknowledges that PTSD remains widely misunderstood, despite affecting around 1 in 10 veterans, with many waiting an average of 14 years before seeking help; notes that untreated PTSD can have serious consequences, including anxiety, depression, isolation as well as harm to relationships and wellbeing; recognises that PTSD does not always present in obvious ways, often appearing through everyday difficulties such as sleep disruption, avoidance and heightened anxiety, and welcomes the work of Combat Stress, the UK's leading charity for veterans' mental health, including its programme of free awareness webinars aimed at improving understanding, reducing stigma and promoting recovery.

Supported by: Dawn Black*, Clare Haughey* R, Patricia Gibson*, Stuart McMillan*, Miles Briggs*, Colin Beattie*, David Torrance*, Helen McDade*

S7M-00338 Jack Middleton: Befriend a Child's Emerald City Ball—That the Parliament welcomes the recent news that local charity, Befriend a Child, has raised £34,842 at its recent Emerald City Ball; notes that the ball was held on 29 May 2026 in Aberdeen's Chester Hotel; commends the work done by numerous volunteers, staff members and sponsors, who ensured that the event was a resounding success; celebrates the fact that the funds raised will be going directly towards supporting children, young people and families; understands that Befriend a Child aims to build young people's confidence through a variety of programmes, including its mentorship scheme, which sees children paired with volunteers who can offer opportunities and experiences that they would not normally be afforded in their everyday lives; congratulates Befriend a Child on the work that it has already done in supporting young people around Aberdeen City and Aberdeenshire since its founding in 1975, including the work it currently does with the approximately 250 children that are supported through its befriending and mentoring programmes, and wishes Befriend a Child all the best in future.

Supported by: Dawn Black*, Clare Haughey*, Colm Merrick*, Miles Briggs*, Colin Beattie*, David Torrance*

S7M-00337 Jack Middleton: New Aberdeen GP Walk-In Centre—That the Parliament welcomes the announced opening of a new GP walk-in centre in Aberdeen Central; understands that the centre will open on 23 June 2026 within the Aberdeen Health Village on Frederick Street, providing residents with the opportunity to be seen by a healthcare professional without an appointment and receive same day care and treatment for minor illnesses; notes that the service will be open seven days a week from 12pm to 8pm with no appointment necessary; acknowledges that the Aberdeen centre will be the seventh of a planned 30 GP walk-in centres to be opened across Scotland, representing £36 million in investment into a new system that, it believes, will fundamentally reshape the day-to-day running of the NHS and GP services; hails the ambition of the GP walk-in services in addressing the 8am rush faced by people in Scotland, and hopes that residents will make full use of the new Aberdeen GP walk-in centre.

Supported by: Dawn Black*, Colm Merrick*, Clare Haughey*, Lloyd Melville*, David Torrance*

S7M-00336 Collette Stevenson: Celebrating South Lanarkshire College being named best Performing Large College—That the Parliament congratulates South Lanarkshire College (SLC) on being named the best performing large college in Scotland for full-time further education; notes that 2024-25 data by the Scottish Funding Council confirms that it had the highest student achievement rates for the third consecutive year; recognises that SLC maintained or improved achievement rates across all study modes, while recording the lowest non-completion rate for full-time further education students across Scotland's large colleges; commends the outstanding hard work of both staff and students; celebrates these milestones alongside SLC's first full year as a fully independent regional college following its successful de-regionalisation in July 2025, and wishes all college staff and students continued success in serving East Kilbride and the surrounding area.

Supported by: David Torrance*, Colin Beattie*, Marie McNair*, Iris Duane*, Jamie Langan*, Stuart McMillan*, Miles Briggs*, Laura Moodie*

S7M-00335 Patricia Gibson: Irvine Burns Club's 200th Anniversary—That the Parliament congratulates the Irvine Burns Club on the occasion of its 200th anniversary; notes that the club was founded on 2 June 1826 in the Milne's Inn in Irvine by a group of 12 local men, including several who were personal friends of Burns; understands that it is one of the oldest continuously active Burns clubs in the world; recognises Irvine's important place in the life of Scotland's national bard, who lived and worked in the town between 1781 and 1782, where he developed friendships that encouraged him to pursue his poetry, including his relationship with sea captain Richard Brown, who is credited by Burns as being the person who "encouraged me to endeavour at the character of a Poet"; acknowledges the club's two centuries of dedication to preserving and promoting the life, works and legacy of Robert Burns, including through its stewardship of the Wellwood Burns Centre and Museum and its significant collection of manuscripts and artefacts, including the 1786 Kilmarnock edition of Poems chiefly in the Scottish dialect and the 1787 Edinburgh edition; commends its ongoing work in supporting education, community engagement and cultural events, inspiring appreciation of Burns among younger generations and visitors; recognises its role in Ayrshire's, national and international Burns networks, including participation in the Robert Burns World Federation, and wishes the Irvine Burns Club every success as it celebrates this remarkable bicentenary and continues its important work for many years to come.

Supported by: Senga Beresford*, Colm Merrick*, Miles Briggs*, Colin Beattie*, David Torrance*

S7M-00334 Colin Beattie: Celebrating Ageing Scotland—That the Parliament commends the Ageing Well programme and its positive effect in improving the health of over 50s in Midlothian North; notes that the Ageing Well programme comprises a range of activities aimed at getting over 50s active; further notes that the programme is ran by several volunteers who are committed to improving the health of over 50s in Midlothian North; understands that it is a partnership between NHS Lothian and Midlothian Council aiming to set up new activities and signpost to activities in the local area, and commends this important service and the volunteers who make it possible.

Supported by: David Torrance*, Marie McNair*, Iris Duane*, Kate Nevens*, Stuart McMillan*, Miles Briggs*

S7M-00333 Paul McLennan: Securing the Future of Bass Rock and Craigleith—That the Parliament welcomes the announcement that the National Heritage Memorial Fund has awarded

£585,525 to support RSPB Scotland in the acquisition of Bass Rock and Craigleith from the Dalrymple family; further welcomes the award of £372,036 of development funding from The National Lottery Heritage Fund to support conservation and improved public access, representing a first step toward potential further delivery funding; recognises the international importance of Bass Rock and Craigleith for seabird populations and marine ecosystems, as well as their status as iconic Scottish landmarks; acknowledges the significant role that these investments will play in protecting and enhancing Scotland's natural heritage for future generations, and commends all partners involved in bringing forward this important initiative.

Supported by: Colin Beattie*, Liam McArthur*, Stuart McMillan*, Lloyd Melville*, Miles Briggs*, David Torrance*, Helen McDade*, Laura Moodie*

S7M-00331 Mark Ruskell: Congratulating Glenfarg Community Transport on Award—That the Parliament congratulates Glenfarg Community Transport on winning in the Community Transport Organisation of the Year (6+ vehicles) category at the Community Transport 2026 Awards; understands that the award winner is recognised as a larger community transport organisation delivering high-quality, accessible and inclusive services at scale, with a strong community focus, ensuring that people can rely on transport and stay connected to their communities; notes that Glenfarg Community Transport was established in 2023 to improve transport in and around the village and has since expanded to provide five services, including school transport; recognises what it sees as the important role that Glenfarg Community Transport plays in connecting and serving the community, and wishes it the very best as it continues its work.

S7M-00330 Kate Nevens: The Saroj Lal Awards for City of Edinburgh Schools—That the Parliament welcomes the fourth annual Saroj Lal Awards for City of Edinburgh schools on 11 June 2026 at The Hub in Edinburgh; notes that the awards were established in 2022 and that this year's event focuses on equality and diversity and the embracing of all protected characteristics; understands that they were founded in memory of Saroj Lal, one of the earliest women from minority ethnic backgrounds to teach in an Edinburgh primary school, having begun her role at South Morningside Primary in August 1970; notes that her contributions to Scotland and the capital included being at the forefront of race relations from the mid-1970s to the mid-1990s, working with Lothian and Borders Police to improve the handling of racism and racial attacks and leaving a lasting legacy for women and minority and marginalised communities; recognises the contribution of Saroj Lal and her husband, Amrit Lal, in founding the Hindu Mandir on St Andrew Place in Leith as a temple, cultural centre and focal point for the Hindu community; congratulates all nominees, including pupils and staff, on their awards, and thanks the Lal family for their continued efforts to commemorate an important and inspirational figure in Edinburgh's recent history.

Supported by: Ariane Burgess*, Colin Beattie*, Q Manivannan*, Cara McKee*, Laura Moodie*

S7M-00329 Clare Adamson: North Lanarkshire's Digital Intergenerational Project—That the Parliament congratulates pupils and staff at Orchard Primary School and the Deaf Unit at Glencairn Primary School, for their involvement in supporting members of the Lanarkshire Deaf Hub to develop digital skills and confidence; understands that these sessions form part of North Lanarkshire Council's award-winning Digital Intergenerational Project, which brings together younger and older generations through shared learning experiences; understands that the project enables older residents to increase their digital confidence and skills while helping pupils develop communication skills, confidence and a strong sense of purpose; notes that, to date, 16 four-week sessions have been delivered, involving more than 170 pupils supporting 130 older people, including some participants who were using digital technology for the first time; recognises the positive impact that intergenerational learning can have in strengthening communities, reducing social isolation and promoting inclusion; commends everyone involved in the project for their commitment and dedication, and wishes the project continued success in expanding opportunities for learning across generations.

Supported by: David Torrance*, Colin Beattie*, Victor Currie*, Dawn Black*, Stuart McMillan*, Miles Briggs*

S7M-00328 Alex Kerr: Hamilton Travel Agent Raises More Than £1000 for Local Cancer Charity

—That the Parliament congratulates Hays Travel Hamilton for raising an amazing £1,096.50 in aid of Lanarkshire Cancer Care Trust; commends the staff, family members and customers for their efforts in taking part in a four-mile sponsored walk around Strathclyde Park in Motherwell; recognises the efforts of manager, Amanda Harvie, who arranged the walk and fundraising, and notes that the Lanarkshire Cancer Care Trust provides what it sees as a vital free transport service to cancer patients, from all over Lanarkshire, to hospital appointments, clinics and day-care facilities.

S7M-00327 Clare Adamson: Funky Natz Foundation Charity Golf Day Raises Vital Funds for Epilepsy Scotland

—That the Parliament commends the efforts of the Funky Natz Foundation and all those involved in its annual charity golf day at Wishaw Golf Club; notes that the foundation was established by Eileen and Eddie Hughes in memory of their daughter, Natalie, who died suddenly in March 2011 and had epilepsy; recognises that the 2026 event brought together 148 players and raised more than £16,000 for Epilepsy Scotland, bringing the total amount raised for the charity through the annual event to an impressive £183,000; applauds the dedication of the Hughes family, volunteers, participants, sponsors and supporters whose commitment has enabled the event to grow and continue to make a meaningful difference; acknowledges the support provided by Wishaw Golf Club, Epilepsy Scotland and the many local businesses that contributed to the success of the day; highlights the importance of raising awareness of epilepsy and supporting those affected by the condition, and sends its best wishes to the Funky Natz Foundation for its continued fundraising and community work in memory of Natalie.

S7M-00326 Clare Adamson: Recognition of Noah Pollock's Success in Powerchair Football

—That the Parliament congratulates Noah Pollock, a pupil at Coltness High School in Wishaw, on being named Scottish Powerchair Football Association Championship Player of the Year; understands that the award is voted for by coaches and officials throughout the season and recognises excellence in performance, attitude, effort and sportsmanship across all match days; congratulates Noah and his team, Strathclyde Caledonia, on winning the Scottish Quaich following two days of competition; recognises the importance of powerchair football as a unique sport that enables people with high levels of physical impairment to participate in competitive team football and notes that it is the only active team participation sport designed specifically for users of electric wheelchairs; commends the players, coaches, volunteers and organisations who support the development of the sport across Scotland, and wishes Noah and Strathclyde Caledonia continued success in future competitions.

S7M-00325 Clare Adamson: Clyde Valley High Wins Innovation Award at the Young Enterprise Scotland Finals

—That the Parliament congratulates Sam Craghill, Isabella Jordan and Breagha Lannigan on winning the Innovation Award at the Young Enterprise Scotland Finals, which were held at Hampden Park; recognises the outstanding achievement of the three Clyde Valley High School pupils, who established the barista business, Valley Grind, and successfully represented Lanarkshire on the national stage after being named Lanarkshire Company of the Year; commends their entrepreneurial spirit, creativity and dedication in developing and presenting their business concept; acknowledges the skills, confidence and experience gained through participation in the competition, including interviews, presentations and engagement with industry professionals; praises the support provided by teachers, mentors and the wider school community in encouraging enterprise and innovation among young people, and wishes Sam, Isabella and Breagha every success in their future education, business ventures and careers.

Supported by: David Torrance*, Marie McNair*, David Smith*, Colin Beattie*, Stuart McMillan*, Miles Briggs*, Laura Moodie*

S7M-00324 Clare Adamson: New College Lanarkshire Awards Fellowship to Michelle McManus

—That the Parliament congratulates New College Lanarkshire on awarding its Fellowship, the College's highest honour, to Michelle McManus at its Motherwell campus; recognises that the Fellowship is bestowed on individuals whose achievements have made a significant and lasting impact on the lives of people in Lanarkshire and beyond; commends Michelle McManus for her outstanding contribution to the creative industries and for her charitable work supporting communities across Scotland; acknowledges her success as a singer, broadcaster and public figure, and the positive example that she provides to aspiring performers and young people; applauds her continued commitment to promoting the arts and supporting charitable causes, and wishes her every success in her future endeavours.

Supported by: Miles Briggs*, Dawn Black*, Colin Beattie*, David Torrance*, Iris Duane*

S7M-00322 Murdo Fraser: Celebrating the Highland Chocolatier's Five Star Status —That the Parliament congratulates the Highland Chocolatier on being awarded a prestigious five star rating by the Association of Scottish Visitor Attractions, which is the national benchmark for visitor experience excellence; recognises that this family-run business, based beside the river Tay, has spent over 20 years building a world class brand, receiving over 90 national and international awards, including recognition as the Best Food and Drink Attraction in Scotland; warmly congratulates the entire team at the Highland Chocolatier on this well-earned national recognition, and wishes them continued success in sharing the very best of Scottish artisan chocolate with visitors from across Scotland and beyond.

Supported by: Meghan Gallacher*, Kim Schmulian*, Miles Briggs*, Colin Beattie*, David Torrance*

S7M-00321 Claire Baker: Welcoming the Recognition of Two Walking Routes in Fife Being Named in the Top 10 Mining Landscape Journeys 2026—That the Parliament welcomes the recognition of two walking routes in Fife being named in the Top 10 Mining Landscape Journeys 2026; understands that the national recognition from the Mining Landscapes virtual museum shines a spotlight on the stories, history and community pride rooted in the region's coalfield communities, as well as the ongoing work to improve access to green space; believes that the Bowhill and the Lady Josephine and the Minto, Brighills Colliery, walking routes highlight the area's rich mining heritage while celebrating how former industrial landscapes have been transformed into welcoming places for people and nature; notes that the Minto route links closely with local plans to enhance Minto Woodland, which are helping to create a space that supports walking, wellbeing and community use; recognises that the project has been shaped by local people to make the area more accessible and enjoyable for everyone and is very grateful to individuals in these communities who support creating greener, healthier places with particular commendation for Elaine Collins, who was named a community champion by the Scottish Civic Trust in 2025 for her outstanding volunteer work supporting local access and green spaces; acknowledges that both routes are part of a wider network of mining heritage journeys across the UK, helping people explore former coalfield landscapes in a new way through walking, storytelling and community connection, and extends its very best wishes to Elaine, all the partners, volunteers and individuals for all their contributions.

Supported by: Colin Beattie*, David Torrance*, Stuart McMillan*

S7M-00320 Murdo Fraser: Congratulating Wasted Degrees Brewing on its New Perth City Centre Pub Venture —That the Parliament congratulates Wasted Degrees Brewing in Blair Atholl on its announcement that it will open a new pub on George Street in Perth; recognises that this is a significant expansion for the business and a boost to the city centre; celebrates the jobs and opportunities this project will bring to Perth; understands that the new pub will have an initial 15 draught beer lines, and encourages MSPs and others to support this new venture.

Supported by: Meghan Gallacher*, Colin Beattie*, Jamie Langan*, Stuart McMillan*, Miles Briggs*

S7M-00317 Q Manivannan: Casteism in Scotland, the Cultural Richness of Anti-Caste Traditions—That the Parliament affirms that every person in Scotland deserves to live, work and learn free from discrimination based on their descent and stands in solidarity with Dalit, Other Backward Class (OBC), Adivasi and caste-oppressed communities in Scotland that, it believes, continue to face the harm of casteism in their daily lives; recognises that the UN Committee on the Elimination of Racial Discrimination affirms that caste discrimination is a form of racial discrimination and a form of descent-based discrimination, placing clear obligations on the UK Government under international human rights law, and that the Scottish Government has both a legal and moral duty to honour those obligations; celebrates the profound intellectual, cultural and civic contributions that Dalit, OBC, Bahujan and caste-oppressed communities have made to Scotland, and to the world; honours the legacy of anti-caste thinkers and movements, including Dr B.R. Ambedkar, Periyar E.V. Ramasamy, Jyotirao and Savitribai Phule and Ayyankali, whose struggles for dignity, equality and rational social order, it believes, resonate deeply with Scotland's own traditions of democratic radicalism and social justice; believes that this rich tradition of anti-caste thought, resistance and scholarship deserves a recognised and celebrated place in Scotland's educational and cultural life and that fostering awareness of it would enrich our schools, universities and public institutions; notes that caste is a system of hereditary social stratification rooted in descent, which has operated across South Asia for millennia and has been carried from there into diaspora communities across the world, including communities in Scotland; understands that caste discrimination exists in various forms within diaspora communities from South Asia and manifests as exclusion and social segregation in the workplace, in the provision of services, in housing and in education, leading to harassment, bullying and harm against Dalit, OBC, Adivasi or caste-oppressed people or groups; recognises that a 2016 survey by the Anti-Caste Discrimination Alliance found that 58% of respondents from South Asian backgrounds were aware of caste discrimination in the UK and that Dalit students face bullying and exclusion in schools, with caste-oppressed individuals also encountering significant barriers in hiring and career advancement; notes that section 9 of the Equality Act 2010, as amended, currently requires the UK Government to introduce secondary legislation to make caste an aspect of race, thereby making caste discrimination a form of race discrimination, yet this secondary legislation has not been brought forward, which, it believes, is leaving affected communities in Scotland reliant on uncertain and evolving case law rather than the clear, explicit protection that they deserve; believes that the current legal ambiguity reinforces the perception that caste issues cannot be resolved in courts and discourages people from bringing cases forward, due to financial costs and fears of reprisals within diaspora communities, and that explicitly naming caste in equality law would provide greater confidence that caste-based discrimination would be taken seriously; further believes that Scotland's public institutions, including schools, colleges, universities, NHS boards, local authorities and public employers, have insufficient awareness of casteism and of their existing duties under the Equality Act 2010 to prevent it and that closing this knowledge gap is both a matter of legal compliance and a mark of respect for affected communities; agrees that tackling casteism is not only a matter of preventing harm, but of actively building a Scotland in which the cultures, histories and intellectual traditions of all its communities are known, valued and celebrated; calls on the Scottish Government to, work with Education Scotland to develop guidance and curricular resources to ensure that students and educators understand casteism and the inspiring history of anti-caste movements, provide clear guidance to public bodies on caste discrimination as a dimension of their existing equality duties, and urge the UK Government to exercise the power under section 9 of the Equality Act 2010 to make caste an explicit and named aspect of the protected characteristic of race and ensure that Dalit, OBC, Adivasi and caste-oppressed communities in Scotland are meaningfully and respectfully consulted on the design of any policies and educational materials that affect them.

Supported by: Laura Moodie*, Ariane Burgess*, Dawn Black*, Cara McKee*

S7M-00272 Daniel Johnson: Izzy Pickard's Life Through a Volunteer's Eyes video for Volunteers Week 2026—That the Parliament commends the work of Gilmerton resident, Izzy Pickard, who volunteers at the Stroke Association's hub at the Royal Infirmary of Edinburgh; understands that Izzy had a stroke when she was born and uses her lived experience to help newly-diagnosed stroke survivors and their families; recognises that Izzy's own stroke resulted in left-side cerebral palsy and visual impairment but, with the support of a personal trainer, she has built strength and confidence, which has allowed her to volunteer; congratulates Izzy for the creation of her video, Life Through a Volunteer's Eyes, for her media course at Edinburgh College, where she reflects on her volunteering with the Stroke Association and interviews other people impacted by stroke; understands that someone has a stroke in Scotland every 49 minutes and timely treatment is essential to save lives and reduce the risk of disability; notes that 1 to 7 June 2026 marks Volunteers' Week, for which Izzy acts as an inspirational example, and passes on its best wishes both to Izzy and the Stroke Association for the work that they do to improve outcomes for people affected by stroke.

New Subordinate Legislation

Subject to negative procedure

The following instrument was laid before the Parliament on 11 June 2026 and is subject to the negative procedure—

Dangerous Dogs \(Compensation and Exemption Schemes\) \(Miscellaneous Amendment\) \(Scotland\) Order 2026 \(SSI 2026/204\)

laid under section 1(5) of the Dangerous Dogs Act 1991

Progress of Legislation

A list of all Bills in progress can be accessed via the website at:

<https://www.parliament.scot/bills-and-laws/bills>

For each Bill, the date of the next (or most recent) event in the Bill's passage is given. Other relevant information, e.g. about lodging amendments, is given in italics.

As soon as a Public Bill (i.e. a Government, Committee or Member's Bill) has completed Stage 1, amendments for consideration at Stage 2 may be lodged; and as soon as Stage 2 is completed, amendments for Stage 3 consideration may be lodged. The last lodging day for amendments at Stage 2 is four sitting days before the meeting at which those amendments will be considered (e.g. Wednesday for a meeting on Tuesday); at Stage 3 it is five days before. Amendments may be lodged until 2.30 pm on any sitting day, except on the last lodging day for each Stage, when the deadline is 12 noon.

A Hybrid Bill is subject to the same rules except in the case of Stage 2 where amendments for consideration may be lodged no earlier than the completion of any consideration of evidence at Stage 2.

Amendments to Private Bills are subject to different deadlines. These are set out in Rule 9A.12 of Standing Orders.

Members are advised to lodge amendments in good time before the beginning of a Stage and as early as possible during the day.

(G) = Government Bill; (M) = Member's Bill; (C) = Committee Bill; (P) = Private Bill; (H) = Hybrid Bill.
