Motions for Debate

S6M-03837 John Swinney: Keeping the Promise Implementation Plan—That the Parliament welcomes the publication of the Keeping The Promise Implementation Plan, published on 30 March 2022, recognising the additional challenges that have emerged since the Independent Care Review reported its conclusions in February 2020 and therefore the even greater importance in setting out actions that the Scottish Government must take to Keep The Promise to care-experienced children and young people and their families; believes that, to Keep The Promise, delivery must be undertaken in partnership with local government, The Promise Scotland, the third sector, NHS boards, and the care community across Scotland to enable progress towards keeping more families together through person-centred wraparound support at the right time and providing the right support to reduce the number of children in the care system where it is safe to do so; agrees that Scotland must shift the focus of its actions from reaction to prevention; recognises that where the care system is the right place to be, the experience of children and young people who do enter the care system must be based on love, relationships, compassion and consistency, and commits to work together across Scotland and on a cross-party basis to Keep The Promise to and with the care community, so that all children grow up loved, safe and respected so that they can realise their full potential.

Supported by: Nicola Sturgeon*, Shirley-Anne Somerville*, George Adam*, Clare Haughey*

S6M-03818 George Adam: Scottish Local Government Elections (Candidacy Rights of Foreign Nationals) Bill—That the Parliament agrees to the general principles of the Scottish Local Government Elections (Candidacy Rights of Foreign Nationals) Bill.

accessible property; understands that MND is a rapidly progressing terminal neurological disease, which can cause those with the illness to lose the ability to walk, talk, eat, drink or breathe unaided, with the average life expectancy being just 18 months from diagnosis; acknowledges that many waiting lists for adaptations and alternative accessible homes are reportedly too long for people with MND with, it understands, some longer than the average life expectancy with the illness; believes that this can leave people with MND unable to spend the precious time that they have left safely and with the dignity that everyone is entitled to, and that, for some, support never comes in time; understands that speed in service provision is critical for people with MND, and notes the expectation that the Scottish Government and local authorities will give meaningful and early consideration to implementing the report's various recommendations, which include fast-tracking people with MND for adaptations and accessible homes, a proactive, not reactive, approach to adaptations, establishing a national definition of accessible housing, and building more wheelchair accessible housing across Scotland.

S6M-03755 Paul McLennan: 25 Years of John Muir Award in Scotland on John Muir Day on 21 April—That the Parliament notes John Muir Day on 21 April 2022 and commends the John Muir Trust on 25 years of running the John Muir Award; understands that, since its launch in Scotland, it has encouraged over 451,578 people from all backgrounds across the UK to enjoy, connect with, and care for wild places through a nationally recognised environmental award scheme, and considers that nature connection encourages healthy pro-environmental behaviours, which it believes are essential for a fairer, sustainable world, including tackling the climate crisis and reversing biodiversity loss.

S6M-03742 Karen Adam: Mental Health Awareness Week, Loneliness and Mental Health—That the Parliament notes that 9 to 15 May 2022 is Mental Health Awareness Week; welcomes this week of mental health awareness-raising, education and campaigning; recognises what it sees as the relevance of this year's theme, Loneliness and Mental Health, to Scotland; considers that, based on available data, loneliness is a key risk factor of poor mental health and that, by reducing loneliness, mental health problems can be prevented; notes reports that some people are at higher risk of loneliness than others and therefore require targeted interventions from the Scottish Government, such as creating safe and accessible spaces for social connectedness and reducing digital exclusion; believes that addressing loneliness is something that needs to be done as a society, within communities, and as individuals, and commends the work of the Mental Health Foundation and local volunteers who help to make Mental Health Awareness Week each year possible.

S6M-03739 Karen Adam: A Public Health Approach to the Prevention of Child Sex Abuse—That the Parliament notes the calls from NSPCC Scotland, Barnardos Scotland and Stop it Now! Scotland for a public health approach to the prevention of child sexual abuse; further notes reports that the scale of online child sexual abuse and exploitation is increasing and has become particularly acute during recent COVID-19 lockdowns; believes that, as a society, Scotland should be focusing its efforts on ensuring that child sexual abuse is prevented before it occurs, before people at risk of abusing become offenders, and before potential victims become actual victims; considers that understanding child sexual abuse, and what causes it, is an essential step towards developing effective prevention strategies, and notes the calls, including from across the Banffshire and Buchan Coast constituency, for an approach that embraces an integrated, cross-departmental and comprehensive approach to prevention, involving health, police, education, community safety, children's services, social services, housing and the wider community.

S6M-03629 Bill Kidd: Protecting Refugees and Making Scotland a Hostile Place for Human Traffickers—That the Parliament notes with concern reports that human traffickers are targeting Ukrainian women and child refugees, who are amassing in the countries bordering Ukraine and also in Germany; understands from reports that German, Romanian and Polish police are reporting of lone women and girls being approached by suspected traffickers and procurers, who, it believes, are using deceptive tactics of offering rooms and work, which would lead to dangerous exploitation and abuse; considers that these developments confirm the findings of the Report of the Special Rapporteur on the sale of children, child prostitution and child pornography, as submitted to the UN Human Rights Council in December 2015, stating that "humanitarian crises or conflicts can also foster the demand factor. The ensuing chaos and lawlessness empower offenders to target vulnerable children in order to sell and/or sexually exploit them"; understands that two thirds of victims of human trafficking for sexual exploitation are women and one third are children; notes that the charity A21, which re-shelters victims of trafficking, and the UNHCR, have released statements highlighting the vulnerabilities of women and children fleeing Ukraine; further notes that the UNHCR has emphasised the importance of family reunification schemes to protect children who have been split up from their parents while fleeing Ukraine, and has urged countries receiving refugees to adopt official blue dot safety points; believes that, when refugees arrive in Scotland, including in Glasgow, they must be protected by proactive safeguarding schemes and not be subject to the same prospects of abuse and forced prostitution; commends the Equally Safe strategy and the A Model for Scotland campaign as they address what it sees as the violent nature of the prostitution system and its facilitation of mass rape; notes the calls for Scotland to become a hostile environment for human traffickers and, to this end, to make the purchase of sex illegal, and further notes the view that the vulnerabilities and plight of Ukrainian refugees reinforce the need to address what it sees as the systemic violence against women and children, and that this underlines the urgency of tackling the demand for prostitution, which, it believes, fosters trafficking, in Scotland.

S6M-03766 Jackie Dunbar: First Wee Forest Planted for Aberdeen—That the Parliament welcomes the recent announcement that the first Wee Forest for Aberdeen, has been planted in the Aberdeen Donside Constituency; understands that the first Wee Forest has been planted in Aberdeen as a result of joint efforts between Aberdeen City Council's Environment Services Team, NatureScot and the pupils and staff of Woodside Primary School; further understands that a Wee Forest is a tennis court-sized, densely planted and fast growing native woodland in urban Scotland, which combines both the specific tiny forest planting method with long-term citizen science; understands that the Woodside Wee Forest will join a group of 20 such forests across the country, which are being planted; further understands that the Wee Forest will complement a nearby outdoor classroom, which will present many opportunities for both Woodside Primary School and the local community; notes the benefits to young people, which it understands will enable them to learn how they can help to tackle the ecological and climate emergency by planting and looking after their own forest in their local community; understands that the Woodside Wee Forest will provide places to play in a natural setting and opportunities to enjoy nature with benefits for individuals mental and physical health, and commends the efforts of all involved in the project, which, it believes, will help future generations enjoy the benefits of the trees planted in the area.

S6M-03733 Rona Mackay: Enthusiastic Young People Raise Over £900 for DEC Ukraine Appeal—That the Parliament congratulates Aviana Connelly, Beth Jamieson and Ella O'Brien for their outstanding efforts in raising over £900 for the DEC Ukraine Appeal on 19 March 2022; delights that the P6 pupils from Holy Family Primary School in Kirkintilloch organised, promoted and held a Bake Sale to raise awareness and funds for the ongoing humanitarian relief efforts in and around Ukraine; further delights that many more of their friends, family members and neighbours rallied to offer their support; believes that the instinct of three enthusiastic young girls to do something meaningful and swiftly to support aid efforts is to be applauded; is encouraged that such actions are reflective of the many ways in which it believes that young people are using their time and energies across Scotland to make a difference in the lives of others; gratefully thanks the support of their families in enabling this event to take place, the Old Gatehouse restaurant and pub in Lenzie for allowing the girls access to their diners, and Holy Family Primary for promoting the event in the school community; acknowledges the phenomenal support of the public in purchasing baked items and donating to the appeal, and extends its thanks to everyone across Scotland, no matter their age or background, who is raising funds towards providing humanitarian aid for Ukraine.

S6M-03729 Alexander Stewart: Hourglass Scotland Launches 24/7 Elder Abuse Helpline and Urgently Seeks Funding—That the Parliament acknowledges that Hourglass Scotland has launched what, it understands, is the first 24/7 helpline dedicated to helping older victims of abuse and the services that support them; notes the calls by Hourglass on care homes, GP surgeries, the police, and other charities who support and care for older people, to promote the helpline and bring the issue out into the open; understands that Hourglass, which was previously known as Action on Elder Abuse, has nearly 30 years' experience and that it is the only charity in Scotland that is focused on tackling the abuse and neglect of older people; further understands that the charity is launching the first 24/7 helpline in the UK as part of a major push to bring the “hidden epidemic” of abuse experienced by older people out into the open and to get victims the support that they need; believes that the helpline is moving to a 24/7 operation thanks to funding from the UK Home Office; understands, however, that these funds are limited to England, while the Scottish line is covered through the charity's own small reserves; notes that the charity is looking for urgent funds to underpin the service in Scotland, and acknowledges the calls on the Scottish Government for funds to ensure that what it sees as this essential service is sustainable in Scotland; highlights that as many as 2.7 million people are thought to be affected by the abuse of older people in the UK, with upwards of 225,000 victims in Scotland, yet new data from the charity's helpline shows that only a fraction of those victims (0.2%) are using the helpline to access specialist support from Hourglass; believes that 28% of people who sought help in 2021 did so outside of office hours, which spotlighted the requirement for a 24/7 service; acknowledges reports that the COVID-19 pandemic has increased social isolation, the social care crisis, a stretched criminal justice system, plus a lack of public awareness, all of which, it considers, have contributed to unacceptable levels of abuse being experienced by older people; believes that this very much remains in the shadows even though it affects millions of people, and highlights what it sees as the necessity to bring this abuse out into the open and to support older people who are experiencing abuse to access the help that they desperately need.

Progress of Legislation

A list of all Bills in progress can be accessed via the Scottish Parliament website at:

<https://www.parliament.scot/bills-and-laws/bills>

For each Bill, the date of the next (or most recent) event in the Bill's passage is given. Other relevant information, e.g. about lodging amendments, is given in italics.

As soon as a Public Bill (i.e. a Government, Committee or Member's Bill) has completed Stage 1, amendments for consideration at Stage 2 may be lodged; and as soon as Stage 2 is completed, amendments for Stage 3 consideration may be lodged. The last lodging day for amendments at Stage 2 is four sitting days before the meeting at which those amendments will be considered (e.g. Wednesday for a meeting on Tuesday); at Stage 3 it is five days before. Amendments may be lodged until 4.30 pm on any sitting day, except on the last lodging day for each Stage, when the deadline is 12 noon.

A Hybrid Bill is subject to the same rules except in the case of Stage 2 where amendments for consideration may be lodged no earlier than the completion of any consideration of evidence at Stage 2.

Amendments to Private Bills are subject to different deadlines. These are set out in Rule 9A.12 of Standing Orders.

Members are advised to lodge amendments in good time before the beginning of a Stage and as early as possible during the day.

(G) = Government Bill; (M) = Member's Bill; (C) = Committee Bill; (P) = Private Bill; (H) = Hybrid Bill.
