6. Scrap Metal Dealer Licensing

You may respond to all questions or only those you have a specific interest in. (Text boxes have no word limit, they will increase in size accordingly).

40. Taking the proposals in sections 63 to 66 of the Bill together, how will they have the desired effect of strengthening the metal dealers' licensing regime to the extent that metal theft and related criminal activity is reduced?

The above proposals are consistent and should reduce criminal activity by targeting all metal dealers, regardless of the turnover.

41. In your view, could the Bill be further strengthened in any way, for example, by including an accreditation scheme for metal dealers?

If so, this should not fall within the remit of the licensing authority. If there is a separate accreditation scheme it should be enforced by another body to ensure objectivity and remove a "dual" role for the licensing authority.

42. Removal of exemption warrant - do you wish to comment on the proposal to remove the exemption warrant system?
43. Removal of requirement to retain metal on-site - what impact will the proposal to remove the retention of metal requirement have on the enforcement of the licensing regime and prevention of criminal activities?

This requirement may not be needed if there are other processes to deal with related criminal activity. However, this is difficult to assess without input from Police Scotland.

44. Forms of payment - what is your view on the proposal to go 'cashless' and is there merit in considering whether metal dealers could be allowed to operate using cash for only very small transactions, which could be limited to a certain number per month?

There is merit on this proposal but it depends on the practical effect of it on the metal dealers.
45. Forms of identification and record keeping:

In line with the Scrap Metal Dealers Act 2013, the Bill adds additional record keeping requirements to a metal dealer's licence including recording the means by which a seller's name and address was verified and retaining a copy of the document, and the method of payment and a copy of the payment document. The Bill will also require a metal dealer to record information in books with serially numbered pages or by means of an electronic device, and to keep separate records at each place of business. Such information and documents are to be kept for three rather than the current two years.

How important is it that the record keeping requirements reflect those in the Scrap Metal Dealers Act 2013, and do you agree with the Scottish Government that the proposed record keeping requirements are not unduly burdensome?

It is a welcome proposal if monitoring criminal activity. It may be viewed as prejudicial if it is not applied to other licences. Consistency should be sought.
46. Mandatory and discretionary licensing requirements:

The Scottish Ministers can impose mandatory licensing requirements, such as those included in the Bill relating to record keeping and the identification of customers. In addition, local authorities can also attach discretionary requirements to licences in their areas.

Does the Bill get the balance right between mandatory and discretionary licensing requirements? Should the Bill include other mandatory conditions for obtaining a metal dealer’s licence, such as installing CCTV at metal dealers’ premises or in relation to labelling of metal and ‘forensic coding’?

See previous answer. Consistency is required. There will be the potential for complaint if this licence is perceived as being treated differently from others and/or imposing requirements which others do not.
