Introduction

1. This annual report covers the period 13 May 2025 to 8 April 2026.

Meetings

2. During the Parliamentary year, the Committee held 17 meetings. Of those, 5 were entirely in public and 12 included a mixture of public and private items.

Committee meetings

Membership changes

3. The following change to the Committee's membership occurred during the reporting year:
 - On 2 September 2025, Davy Russell replaced Foysol Choudhury as a member of the Committee.

The work of the Committee on Petitions

4. Over the course of the Parliamentary year, the Committee considered a total of 164 petitions on a wide range of issues. Of these, 94 were continued petitions (i.e. petitions first considered before the start of the Parliamentary year) and 70 were new petitions (first considered during the Parliamentary year). Most petitions are considered on a number of occasions. A full list of petitions considered is included in Annexe A.

164 Petitions considered

5. Of those petitions considered by the Committee, 159 were closed. This is higher than most years as the Committee focused on concluding work on petitions where possible ahead of the end of Session 6.
6. Petitions may be lodged by individuals or organisations. This Parliamentary year, 49 petitions were published. Of those, 42 were submitted by individual petitioners and seven were submitted by groups or organisations.
7. Since the beginning of the session, the Committee has sought a SPICe briefing and an initial submission from the Scottish Government on every new petition before the petition is included on the Committee's agenda. This has allowed the Committee to make informed decisions on new petitions at their first consideration. This approach has worked well, and the Committee is grateful to the Scottish Government for continuing to engage positively with these requests for information.
8. The majority of the information gathered by the Committee is through written submissions. This Parliamentary year, submissions were received from:
 - Petitioners
 - the Scottish Government

- relevant organisations with an interest in the petition
 - members of the public.
9. The Committee published 354 written submissions during the Parliamentary year. This figure includes the initial submissions received from the Scottish Government on every new petition.
10. The Committee also heard oral evidence on petitions during the Parliamentary year. Evidence sessions were conducted both in hybrid and in person enabling the Committee to hear from a wide range of people and organisations. The Committee heard from 31 people over 8 meetings.

31

Number of people who gave evidence

11. This Parliamentary year the Committee heard oral evidence on the following petitions:
- PE1876: Accurately record the sex of people charged or convicted of rape or attempted rape
 - PE2099: Stop the proposed centralisation of specialist neonatal units in NHS Scotland
 - PE2105: Safeguard Scottish Listed Buildings at risk of unnecessary demolition.

The Committee also held a number of thematic sessions.

Thematic evidence sessions

12. Thematic sessions are designed to help progress the aims of petitions which, while having different specific asks within them, raise recurring or similar issues across a broader theme. The sessions allow the Committee to raise the overarching issues directly with Scottish Ministers, whilst also being able to seek clarification or updates on individual petitions.

13. During the Parliamentary year, the Committee held five thematic evidence sessions.
14. Youth crime - 25 June 2025. The Public Petitions System

19. Part of the Committee's remit is to "keep under review the operation of the petitions system".
20. At its meeting on 21 May 2025, the Committee agreed its approach to new petitions prior to dissolution, including the cut-off date of 10 October for considering new petitions. On 24 September 2025, the Committee further considered its approach and agreed a form of words to communicate this to petitioners.
21. At its meeting on 14 January 2026, the Committee agreed changes to the determination on the proper form of petitions. The changes agreed are designed to assist petitioners in meeting the admissibility criteria. Changes identified, which will take effect from the beginning of Session 7, include guidance on:
 - ensuring the petition is clear in what it wants to achieve and what action it is asking to be taken to achieve this
 - clarifying the purpose of taking previous action
 - the naming of third parties
 - matters which another body (not the Government or Parliament) is responsible for
 - the use of personal experience.

Case studies

PE2121: Run a targeted roadside litter awareness campaign

22. Petition PE2121 called on the Government to run a campaign targeted principally at companies to raise awareness of the harms caused by roadside litter and the penalties that could be brought against responsible parties.
23. After speaking with the Petitioner to understand her main concern, the clerks worked with the Petitioner to identify a clear and actionable ask for the Scottish Government.
24. The petition was one part of the Petitioner's wider campaigning work on this issue. The Petitioner had worked in her community, made representations to her councillors and engaged with her MSP. This formed a strong basis for the petition, as the Petitioner had information to share about her previous efforts to address the issue and was able to secure an MSP's support for the petition.
25. The Committee wrote to Transport Scotland bringing its attention to the petition and its aims. In response, Transport Scotland recognised that there had been an increase in discarded litter across trunk roads and agreed with the Petitioner's call for a campaign to discourage people from dropping litter. In that communication, Transport Scotland confirmed that it would work with relevant groups to run a campaign targeted at companies and the public to raise awareness of the harms caused by roadside litter, and the legislation that is in place to penalise those who drop litter.
26. The petition was successful in achieving its goal, and demonstrates the value in the pre-publication work that takes place between the clerks and petitioners. This example also shows the value in petitions as a tool that can be used as part of wider community and campaigning efforts.

PE1859: Retain falconers' rights to practise upland falconry in Scotland

27. Petition PE1859 asked the Scottish Parliament to urge the Scottish Government to amend the Animals and Wildlife Act 2020 to allow mountain hares to be hunted for the purposes of falconry.
28. Having considered the petition on multiple occasions, including oral evidence sessions with the Petitioner and the Scottish Government, the Committee had sought to hold a Chamber debate on the issues raised in the petition in this reporting year.
29. In advance of the debate, however, during Stage 3 proceedings on the Natural Environment (Scotland) Bill on 27 and 28 January 2026, the Parliament agreed to an amendment lodged by Willie Rennie MSP, after he had received representations from the Petitioner and worked with him to come up with an amendment that allows licences to be issued to take mountain hares for the purposes of falconry. The Bill, incorporating the amendment, was passed on Thursday 29 January 2026.

30. At its meeting on 11 February 2026, the Committee agreed to close the petition on the basis that the aim of the petition had been secured through primary legislation. In closing the petition, the Committee recognised the efforts and impact of the Petitioner, who reflected in a written submission on his experience of the petitions process.
31. The Committee considers this is an excellent example of a Petitioner using the awareness raised through their petition to explore other avenues within the Parliamentary process, from having the issue raised with the First Minister at a meeting of the Conveners Group, to working with MSPs across parties at each stage of the legislative process.

Equal opportunities

32. The Committee is keen to ensure that the petition process is made accessible to the widest range of people. To achieve this, the Committee seeks to remove any barriers that may prevent people from creating a petition and facilitates additional support for petitioners throughout the process where required. Committee clerks have provided over-the-phone support and communicated in writing with those who find digital communication difficult.
