7. The DPLR Committee considered the instrument on 19 November and confirmed that it had no points to raise in respect of the Regulations.

Purpose of the instrument

- 8. The Town and Country Planning (Fees for Applications) (Scotland) Amendment Regulations 2024 sets out the fees which an authority can charge for the submission of a planning application.
- 9. The purpose of the Regulations is to—
  - "implement an increase to planning fees to take account of the effects of inflation in 2022 and 2023, extend the range of services which an authority can introduce a fee or charge for to include entering into a processing agreement and to recover their costs in relation to the establishment and delivery of a Masterplan Consent Area, increase the fee for the Prior Notification/Approval process and adjust the fee for shellfish farming."
- 10. The Policy Note accompanying the instrument includes a summary of consultation undertaken on the instrument, impact assessments carried out, and the anticipated financial effects.

Committee consideration

- 11. So far, no motion recommending annulment has been lodged.
- 12. Members are invited to consider the instrument and decide whether there are any points they wish to raise. If there are, options include:
  - seeking further information from the Scottish Government (and/or other stakeholders) through correspondence, and/or
  - inviting the Minister (and/or other stakeholders) to attend the next meeting to give evidence on the instrument.

- 13. It would then be for the Committee, at the next meeting, to consider the additional information gathered and decide whether to make recommendations in relation to the instrument.
- 14. If members have no points to raise, the Committee should note the instrument (that is, agree that it has no recommendations to make).
- 15. However, should a motion recommending annulment be lodged later in the 40-day period, it may be necessary for the Committee to consider the instrument again.
